DISCOVER AN ANCIENT LANDSCAPE

Awaken the spirit of adventure at Amangiri, in a land where iconic geology reveals millennia of history

The Amangiri Experience

Thousands of square miles of untouched scenery surround Amangiri, which lies at the gateway to major national parks in the Colorado Plateau. From canyoneering and cultural insights to excursions by air, bike, boat or on horseback, guests are encouraged to discover the region their way.

Long-standing relationships with local experts allow Amangiri to arrange tailor-made itineraries for every guest – a bespoke approach that guarantees a creative, adventurous and fulfilling experience.

Advance reservations are encouraged. To find out more about the possibilities on offer, or to create a custom itinerary, please contact the Amangiri Experience Team, who will be delighted to assist.

An Ethical Journey

Amangiri is fortunate to call the Colorado Plateau home, but with this honor comes responsibility. To experience the landscape in its unaltered, pristine state, guests are encouraged to travel quietly and lightly on the land.

Cultural artifacts are safeguarded by the Archaeological Resources Protection Act. It is illegal to remove or disturb archaeological or historic sites, or any artifacts, no matter how recent, found on public lands.

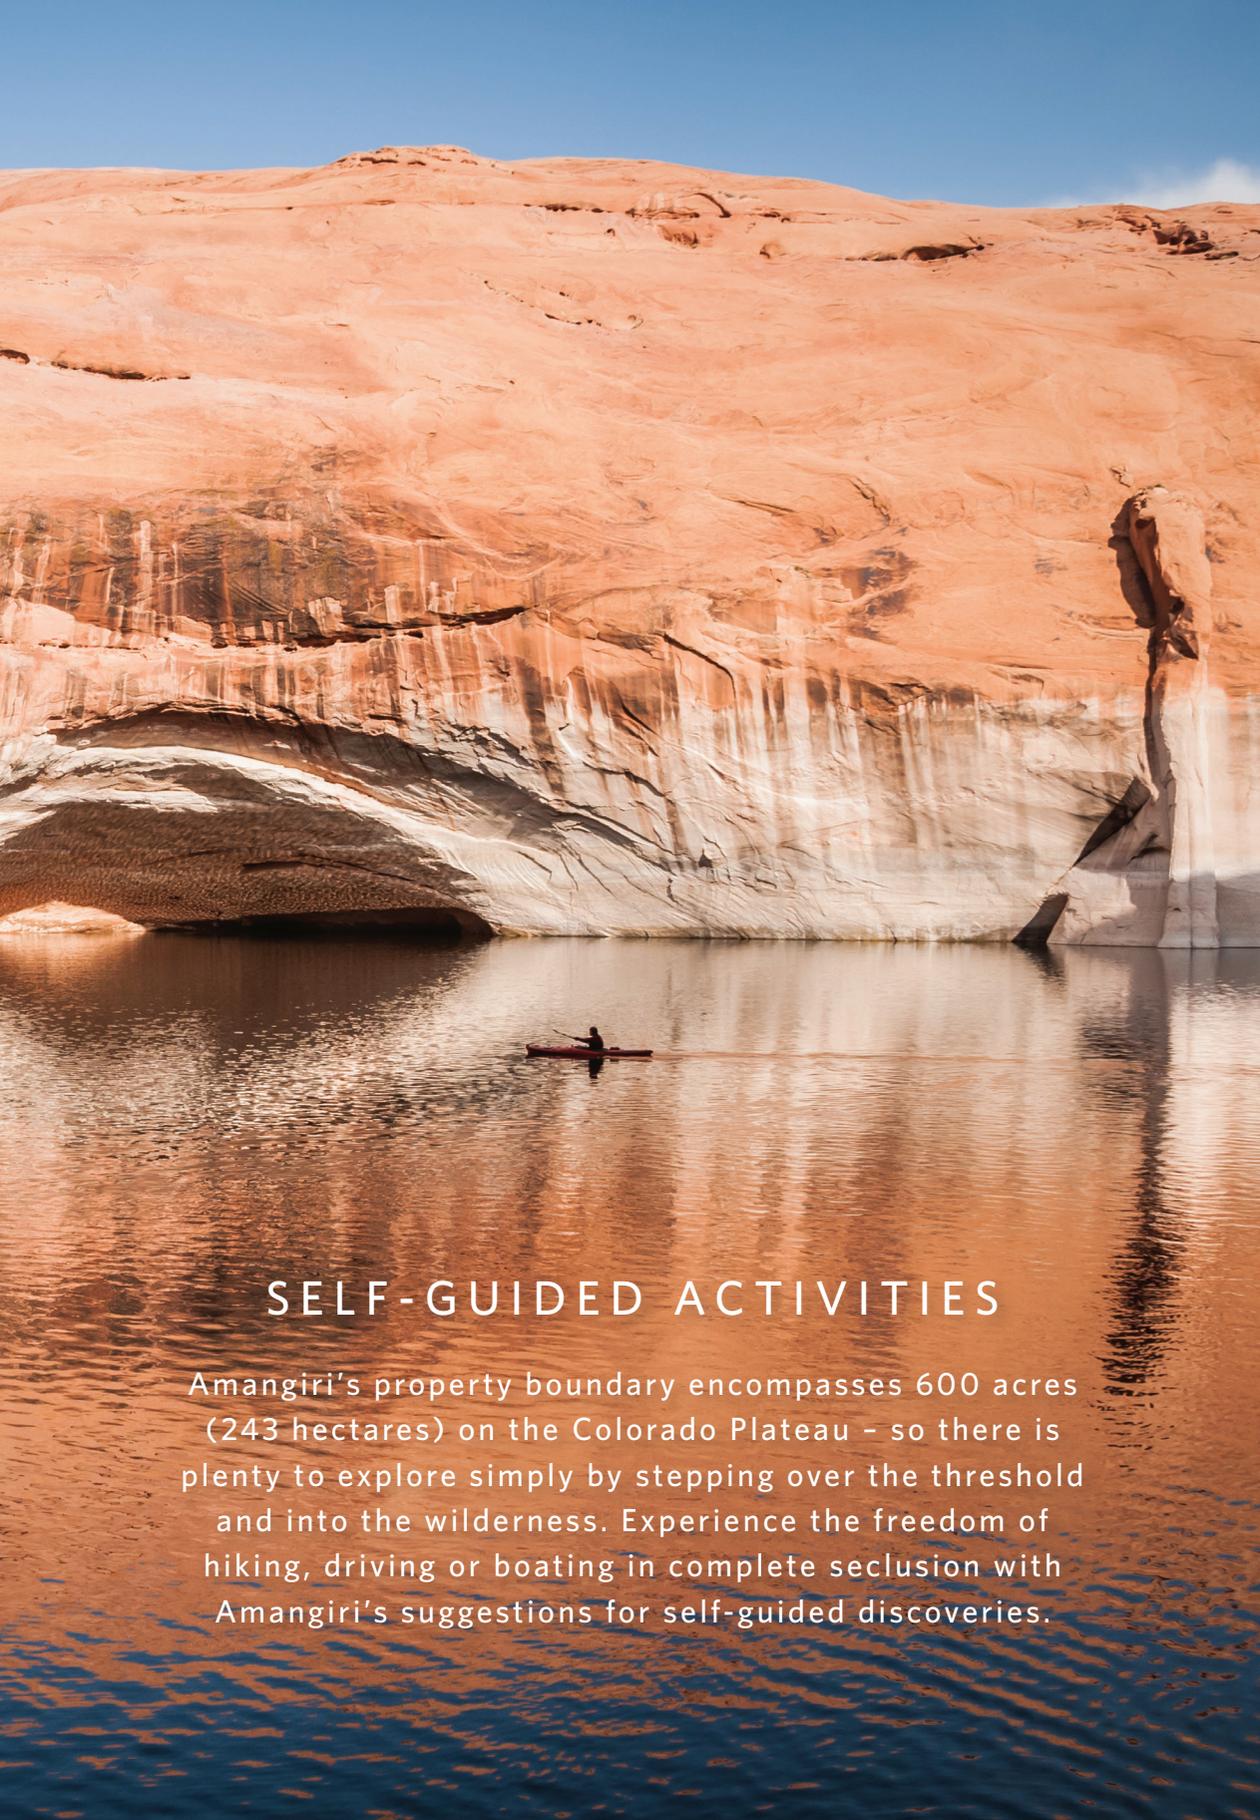

It is illegal to carve into any of the rocks, on or off Amangiri property.

Enjoy and learn from historical and archaeological sites, but respect these national treasures. Some are sacred to Native Americans, or are important cultural reminders of pioneer heritage.

Natural objects of beauty or interest, such as antlers, petrified wood and coloured rocks, enhance the atmosphere of the backcountry and should be left for others to experience too.

Quick movements and loud noises are stressful to animals. Travel quietly and do not pursue, feed or force animals to flee. Do not touch, get close to, feed or pick up wild animals.

Amangiri thanks guests in advance for joining its effort to protect this fragile environment.

SELF-GUIDED ACTIVITIES

Amangiri's property boundary encompasses 600 acres (243 hectares) on the Colorado Plateau - so there is plenty to explore simply by stepping over the threshold and into the wilderness. Experience the freedom of hiking, driving or boating in complete seclusion with Amangiri's suggestions for self-guided discoveries.

Self-Guided Activities

A few suggestions for spending quality time while at Amangiri.

Guests are always encouraged to use the expertise of Amangiri's Experience Team, from assistance with self-guided tours of the national parks to invaluable insider knowledge of the immediate surroundings. The team is available at any time to sit down and discuss individual requirements.

Slow down and take it in

Enjoy the Amangiri property, especially early in the morning or late in the afternoon. Take a leisurely walk at sunrise or sunset, and allow the long shadows and glow of the sky to envelop you in comfort and peace. Enjoy the pool; take part in daily complimentary group hikes; or stretch out at morning group yoga or afternoon Pilates.

National Park tours

Guests who are comfortable driving to and from the nearby national parks are encouraged to seek advice on how to best self-tour these magnificent areas. Members of the Amangiri Experience Team have excellent local knowledge and can point guests to the best places to park, catch the shuttle and beat some of the crowds, as well as advise on entrance fees.

Wahweap Overlook

A perfect way to wrap up a peaceful day in the desert is to take a short drive to the Wahweap Overlook. This hilltop vantage point offers a spectacular place to view and photograph Lake Powell.

Horseshoe Bend

This self-guided, free-access hike is located 30 minutes from Amangiri. The 0.75-mile (2.1-kilometer) trail is well marked and easy to follow. Hikers will be rewarded by the incredible thousand-foot-deep (300-meter) gorge of the Colorado River.

Navajo National Monument

Join a ranger-led hike and learn about the Native American traditions of the Southwest. The trail descends 700 feet (213 meters) into a canyon that is home to well-preserved cliff dwellings.

Glen Canyon Dam

Twenty minutes' drive from Amangiri, the Glen Canyon Dam is a spectacular man-made landmark and can be toured with a Natural History Association guide.

Lake Powell

Guests who are comfortable driving their own boats are encouraged to seek advice from the Experience Team, who will advise on the most suitable marina. The team can also assist with self-guided kayaking, fishing and paddle-boarding.

Lake Powell National Golf Course

With views of Glen Canyon Dam, Lake Powell and the Vermillion Cliffs, Lake Powell National Golf Course provides an unparalleled golfing experience. The 18-hole championship facility offers multiple tee boxes and accommodates all levels of play.

PRIVATE AIR TOURS

Flying this incredible landscape - by plane, helicopter, or on a sunrise balloon trip - is an inspiring way to discover the breadth of the backcountry. Working closely with the area's best pilots, Amangiri enables guests to grasp the scale of the terrain with an experience of Canyon Country from on high.

Private Air-Touring Options

Hot-air balloon

Launching from Amangiri at sunrise, hot-air-balloon flights offer extraordinary views of the property's 600 acres (242 hectares). Because launches are subject to weather conditions, Amangiri typically schedules balloon flights only in the cooler fall and winter months when the cancellation is less likely, though spring and summer flights are available by special request. Please contact a member of the Amangiri Experience Team to speak about the logistics of 'off-season' flying.

Helicopter tours

Guests can depart directly from Amangiri's private helipad, discreetly located between picturesque sandstone towers. From there, guests can be flown to any of the surrounding National Parks. These tours can be either a privately guided ground tour, or strictly an air-only scenic flight.

Horseshoe Bend

NATIONAL PARKS

With the highest concentration of national parks in America, the breathtaking Colorado Plateau offers endless opportunity for discovery. Whether touring by air, car or on foot, Amangiri guests have access to expert in-house and local guides offering custom itineraries.

Grand Canyon National Park

With two billion years of history hidden in its striking erosional forms and layers of geologic color, the Grand Canyon – one of the deepest gorges on Earth – never fails to overwhelm the senses. Amangiri’s proximity to the canyon’s South Rim offers guests lots of flexibility in viewing this wonder of the world. The North Rim is open only half the year, typically from mid-May to mid-November. With a fraction of the visitor numbers received at the South Rim, it is a less developed, more peaceful alternative, with several easily accessible viewpoints. Its altitude – 1,000 feet (304 meters) higher than the South Rim – also offers cooling respite from the summer heat.

SOUTH RIM TOURING OPTIONS

Air and Grand Canyon Association Field Institute tour

This full-day excursion combines flights to and from the South Rim with a guided tour on the ground led by a highly knowledgeable Grand Canyon Association Field Institute (GCAFI) guide. Affiliated with the country’s National Park Cooperating Associations, the GCAFI is a non-profit organization, and Amangiri donates a portion of the tour fee to support its work. The tour is unscripted and can be tailored to guests’ requirements. Transportation between Amangiri and Grand Canyon Airport is included.

The tour includes a breathtaking 23-mile (37-kilometer) journey along the East Rim Drive.

Journey time: 2.5 hours by car each way

AMANGIRI ENCOUNTERS

The Colorado Plateau offers immersive encounters beyond the purely physical. Guests of Amangiri will find the opportunities for discovery are almost unlimited.

Monument Valley & the Navajo Nation

Located on the Navajo Reservation and almost completely undeveloped, Monument Valley Navajo Tribal Park remains much the same as it did a millennium ago. A tour is highly recommended for those who want to become better acquainted with the culture of the Navajo, the original southwest settlers, and Amangiri has developed excellent relationships with Navajo guides. The property also has links with Goulding's Lodge, the historic trading post whose owners introduced Hollywood directors to Monument Valley in the 1930s, sparking the Western movie genre.

Amangiri offers 3.5-hour private tours with Navajo guides, taking in famous features of Monument Valley, including the Mittens, Merrick Butte and the Totem Pole. Alternatively, a seven-hour tour explores the Monument Valley region and the restricted area known as Mystery Valley.

Lake Powell Adventure Boat

These tours are meant for the truly adventurous at heart. The Lake Powell Adventure Boat is designed to be the perfect platform for guests drawn to human powered discovery of Lake Powell via foot, kayak and paddleboard. This 28-foot Munson Landing Craft, guided by accomplished and knowledgeable USCG licensed captains, travels Lake Powell in swift, safe and comfortable style. The boat's unique, climate controlled, interior cabin space and ample deck allows for unobstructed sightseeing as you head up lake to paddle hidden canyons. The Adventure Boat is also perfect for winter travel, where few venture on the Lake's glassy and solitary waters.

Boating on Lake Powell

Encompassing almost 2,000 miles (3,219 kilometers) of shoreline, Lake Powell's glassy surface mirrors picturesque side canyons and secluded bays with sandy beaches – a view best captured during the winter months, when the lake appears in its purest, most unaltered state. With mile after mile of pristine water to explore, it is ideal for boating activities, and Amangiri offers kayaks, open-bow sports boats, bass boats, cabin cruisers and houseboats.

LAKE POWELL TOURING OPTIONS

Only minutes from Amangiri, Lake Powell can be toured privately throughout the day. Tours range from two to eight hours in length, and are captained by guides hand-picked by Amangiri.

Touring options include, but are not limited to: visits to the lake's unique side canyons and the phenomenal Rainbow Bridge, a 290-foot (88 meter) free-standing arch; an onboard picnic lunch; swimming in the pristine water; fishing; paddle-boarding, kayaking and other water sports; and photography.

Discover the Via Ferratas

Invented centuries ago in the Italian Alps, a via ferrata ('iron road') is a series of cables and ladder rungs, fixed to the rock face to enable the ascent of steep mountain routes. The climbs and drops can be an adrenaline ride, but via ferratas also offer an opportunity to get up close to the fascinating geology of the terrain. Amangiri offers a number of fun and challenging via ferrata hikes led by expert guides on the property's 242 hectares. Guests are provided with helmets and harnesses; climbers younger than 10 years of age will require assessment before they can climb.

Stud Horse Via Ferrata - up and down

The Stud Horse Via Ferrata combines a scramble and technical 150-meter climb up Stud Horse Mesa, using steel rungs. No previous climbing experience is required for this ascent, but guests should be reasonably fit and have hiking experience. From the summit of Stud Horse Mesa, guests can walk the short distance to Skylight Arch to enjoy panoramic views of Lake Powell, Navajo Mountain and the Grand Staircase-Escalante National Monument.

Duration: 3 hours

Canyon Crossing Via Ferrata

This exhilarating experience has been designed to challenge and inspire the whole family. While rock scrambles, via ferrata traverses and four suspension bridge passes allow guests to experience the natural desert environment at its finest, Amangiri has created a host of interactive activities to accompany the trip. Designed to educate, engage and inspire, they include a replica dinosaur dig, created using castings from real fossils, that references the paleontology site at nearby Grand Staircase-Escalante National Monument.

Cave Peak Via Ferrata

With an unmatched vertical route of ascent, a spectacular position and a summit visible from the Amangiri Pavilion, the Cave Peak Via Ferrata is destined to become an iconic southwest adventure. There are two route options for ascent and descent of Cave Peak.

Duration: 3 hours

Hoodoo Via Ferrata

The Hoodoo Via Ferrata ascends an impressive peak, with commanding views in every direction and fascinating geology. The expansive summit allows for significant exploration, including a short slot-canyon loop hike. With two route options for ascent and descent, the via ferrata includes an 18-inch-wide (45-centimeter) suspension bridge spanning a 600-foot-deep (182-meter) gorge. Rappel training (abseiling) can be added to the climbing trip, extending the excursion by approximately one hour.

Voodoo Via Ferrata

Amangiri's newest installment in the via ferrata circuit, the Voodoo Via Ferrata route, ascends a technical arête of entrada sandstone. This alternate route leads to the above-mentioned 600-foot high suspension bridge. The Voodoo Via Ferrata is arguably the most exposed and challenging route Amangiri has to offer. This route is perfect for those looking for an elevated adventure.

Duration: 3 hours

Tower Butte Yoga

Greet the sunrise 1,000 feet above Lake Powell on a yoga excursion to majestic Tower Butte. Rising from the canyon floor, 5,000 feet above sea level, the flat-topped pinnacle is one of the world's most iconic sights. The journey begins with a scenic helicopter flight from Amangiri, soaring over Lake Powell and Glen Canyon before landing on Tower Butte.

Here, guests will be guided through a tailored movement and meditation session, fueled by the magical energy of the 360-degree panorama.

All activities can be customized to suit personal interests, fitness and technical skill level.

Buckskin Gulch

Roughly an hour's drive from Amangiri through open red-rock country, Buckskin Gulch is considered the longest, narrowest slot canyon in the world. It has two access points: Wire Pass, the easier approach; and the Middle Route, requiring a scramble to the canyon floor. The hike through the canyon, which is nearly 15 miles (24 kilometers) long, reveals ancient petroglyphs and twisted rock formations providing dramatic photo opportunities. The shady canyon floor provides a cool respite during the summer heat.

1 full day of hiking

Hodge's Hideaway

Always investigating new and unexplored territories, the Amangiri team discovered this wide-open, rarely visited area of slickrock, peppered with native American artifacts. With no trails, no roads, and no campsites, guests will feel immersed in remote backcountry, despite being only an hour away from Amangiri. Full-day tours are also available.

Half day of hiking

Thousand Pockets

Navigate a sandstone landscape of spectacular domes, fins and rock sculptures on this guided hike through the Vermilion Cliffs National Monument. A full day is required if one wishes to reach the spectacular overlook of Paria Canyon, Lee's Ferry and the Colorado River.

Half day of hiking

Hackberry Canyon

This delightful hike up a narrow slot canyon is an iconic southern Utah wilderness experience, combining a remote setting with the refreshing gentle flow of spring water on the sandy canyon floor. Three-Hour Hiking Tours

Native American Rock Art Tour

A three-hour tour allows ample time to visit a magnificent petroglyph panel within Amangiri's grounds and a second panel a short drive from the property. Additional rock art panels can be added to this tour, making it a half-day outing. The tour can also incorporate Catstare, a small canyon adorned with well-preserved petroglyph panels.

Resurrection Canyon

A 15-minute drive from Amangiri, Resurrection Canyon is a white Entrada sandstone canyon with numerous windows, hoodoos and winding chutes. The route is ideal for photographers and anyone wishing to wander through the unique erosional features visible from Amangiri's pavilion windows. Hiking distance can be tailored to guests' fitness and goals. This is a wonderful introduction to backcountry travel in Glen Canyon National Recreation Area.

Paria Overlook

The soaring precipice of Paria Overlook gives guests the chance to stand on the edge of a great canyon, taking in the vast spaces of the Colorado Plateau, without the drive to Grand Canyon or Bryce. Reached via a drive up the back of the Ferry Swale canyon, Paria commands incredible views of Grand Staircase-Escalante and the endless canyon landscape. Photography opportunities abound, along with short hikes to other jutting viewpoints. This tour can include a stop and short walk to the Anasazi Look out/ Pueblo Ruin.

Desert Hiking Tips

Hike in cooler temperatures

Summer hiking presents challenges that cannot be taken lightly. Plan an early morning or evening departure to take advantage of cooler temperatures. Hiking in direct sunshine, in the middle of the day, increases the risk of a heat-related illness. You will make better time and feel better if you use shaded rest stops often in your travels.

Carry plenty of water

Adequate water intake is critical for a safe and enjoyable trip in the desert environment. When planning a full day's hike, water should be the heaviest item in your pack. Some desert travelers will drink at least a gallon of water per day. While hiking in the desert heat, everyone sweats around 0.5-1 quart of water and electrolytes for every hour they walk in the heat.

Eat adequate amounts

Eating enough food will help guarantee you are replacing the electrolytes (salts) that you are sweating out. You will need two to three times your normal food intake to meet your energy needs while hiking.

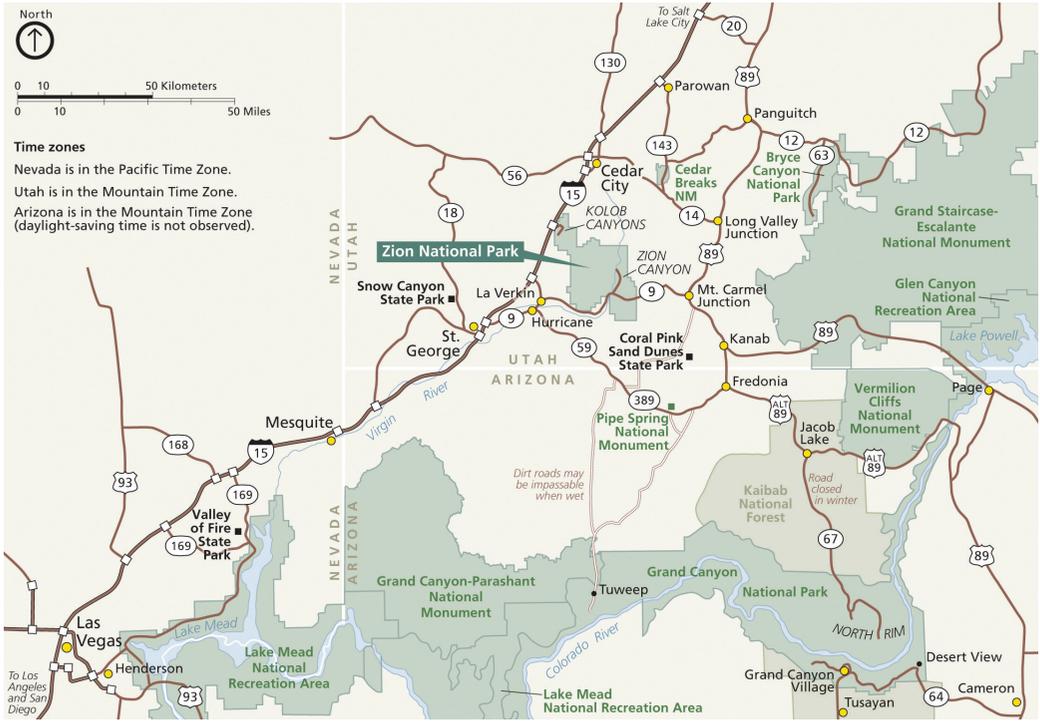

Plan your trip carefully

Always tell someone where you are going and when you will return. Check local weather forecasts and road conditions. Summer monsoons and flash floods can make travel in narrow drainages extremely dangerous. Stick with your itinerary, and check in when you return. It is easy to become disoriented in the desert, where many landmarks and rock formations look similar. Amangiri staff members are available to offer advice or help plan an itinerary.

Dress properly

Protect yourself from the elements. Good hiking shoes, loose-fitting breathable fabrics with UPF protection, a wide-brimmed hat, sunglasses and sunscreen are a must. A high SPF sunscreen should be applied liberally and regularly. Desert temperatures can reach over 100 degrees in the middle of the day. In winter, dress in layers and wear warm gloves and a warm hat that covers your ears.
