Activities Guide

Built on water, steeped in history and synonymous with romance, Venice is a fabled destination with a glorious past. Built atop 118 small islands, separated by winding canals and linked by arching bridges, this legendary Italian city was once a major power in the Mediterranean and a flourishing trade centre between Western Europe and the rest of the world. Today it is known for the beauty of its setting, its architecture and its artworks: The entire city along with its lagoon is listed as a Unesco World Heritage Site. Home to the Piazza San Marco and St Mark's Basilica, Venice is perhaps best known for its iconic Grand Canal.

Meandering in a sinuous s-shape, the city's main thoroughfare is plied by gondolas and vaporetti (water buses) and lined with more than 170 gracious buildings between 200 and 700 years old. Physical reminders of the city's grand heritage, most were built to demonstrate the wealth and artistry of the Republic of Venice in its heyday. It is in one of these regal old homes that Aman Venice is housed, ideally placed for those wishing to explore the history, culture and modern day magic of the 'Floating City'.

Revisit the Past

Already a city state with impressive naval and commercial powers between the 9th and 12th centuries, Venice became an imperial power after the sacking of Constantinople in 1204, when much of the plunder was brought to its shores. By the late 13th century, Venice was the most prosperous city in all of Europe, dominating Mediterranean commerce. During this time, the city's most powerful families tried to outdo each other by building the grandest palaces possible, and supporting the work of the most talented artists. Many of the results of this competitive spirit survive today, and can be admired on personalised excursions with experienced Aman Venice guides.

Explore the Palazzo

The 16th-century palazzo in which Aman is housed was completed in 1570 by the architect Gian Giacomo dé Grigi, as commissioned by the Coccina family. The Coccinas were wealthy traders and seafarers who had recently moved to Venice from Bergamo. Some of Italy's most celebrated artists were employed at different times to add unique decorative touches such as painted ceilings and carved fireplaces. These included Jacopo d'Antonio Sansovino (1486-1570) and Giovanni Battista Tiepolo (1696-1770), whose family acquired the palazzo in 1748. Avid art collectors, the Tiepolos built an impressive library and gathered treasures from all over the world which were viewed by many notable figures of the time.

The palazzo changed hands several times between 1837 and 1864 when it was acquired by the Papadopoli family. The brothers Count Nicolo and Angelo Papadopoli moved to Venice from Corfu in Greece, and Nicolo married Maddalena Aldo Brandolini who came from a wealthy family of intellectuals. The Papadopoli Brandolinis bought the palazzo and set about an ambitious renovation. In 1865 they hired architect Girolamo Levi, and entrusted the internal decoration of the piano nobile – the main living area of the palazzo – to Michelangelo Guggenheim.

Guggenheim was a leading exponent of the Neo-Renaissance and Rococo styles, and he reinvented the space, turning the palazzo into one of the most significant examples of these styles in Venice. The palazzo was reimagined as the perfect home for entertaining, with access from the side canal for all services and deliveries. It also featured one of the first elevators in Venice, as well as electric chandeliers and an internal phone system. The brothers also created the palazzo's two gardens, unusual features in the city even today. By 1882, Palazzo Papadopoli was hosting the highest echelons of Venetian society.

At the close of the 19th century, Vera Papadopoli Aldobrandini married Count Giberto Arrivabene with the palazzo as part of her dowry. Today, the palazzo is owned by her grandson, Count Giberto Arrivabene Valenti Gonzaga, and is a historic oasis alive with the gentle sounds of water all around.

Every new guest adds to the rich tapestry of the palazzo's history, with their voices and presence added to the generations that have gone before. Please let us know if you would like a personal tour, as we would be honoured to guide you around the palazzo's storied rooms.

Get lost in San Polo

Aman Venice overlooks the Grand Canal in San Polo, the smallest of the six sestieri (districts) of Venice. Named for the Church of San Polo, it is also one of the oldest parts of the city, known for its beautiful palaces, churches and market. We highly recommend “getting lost” in this area, just head out the back gate of the Palazzo and start wandering. It really doesn’t matter which way you go; there is beauty in every direction over the district’s 35 hectares. If you would like a map, we will happily provide one. Otherwise simply follow the signs for Rialto Bridge, the oldest of the four bridges spanning the Grand Canal, located a five-minute stroll from the palazzo. Over the bridge, the wonders of San Marco are a 15-minute walk away. These include Piazza San Marco and St Mark’s Basilica.

Piazza San Marco

The principal public square of Venice, Piazza San Marco is the city's social, religious and political centre. Once called 'the drawing room of Europe' (reputedly by Napoleon), it is surrounded by the city's most magnificent buildings.

St Mark's Basilica

The most famous of Venice's churches and the city's cathedral since 1807, St Mark's Basilica is one of the world's best-known examples of Italo-Byzantine architecture. Its opulent design, gold mosaics and status as a symbol of Venice's historic wealth and power resulted in its nickname 'Chiesa d'Oro' or 'Church of Gold', which it has been known as since the 11th century. It lies at the eastern end of Piazza San Marco, adjacent and connected to the Doge's Palace.

Doge's Palace - Palazzo Ducale

For more than 1,000 years, from 697 to 1797, the Republic of Venice was governed by a Doge, elected for life by the city-state's aristocracy. The Doge headed up the Council of Ten, who were voted for by a senate of 200 to 300 men. The Doge's Palace was the seat of power until Napoleon's invasion unceremoniously ended the Republic. One of the wonders of Venice, the original Palace dates from the ninth century, but the existing structure was built in the Venetian Gothic style in 1340. A museum since 1923, guests can explore its hidden corners with a specialist guide. A very special private visit is possible for Aman Venice guests after closing time.

1.5 hour private tour Available at 7pm or 8pm - after closing time.

St Mark's Clock Tower - Torre dell'Orologio

The Clock Tower is a masterpiece of Renaissance technology and engineering dating back to 1499. For more than 500 years its clock has measured out the flow of life and history within the city both for Venetians and visitors. Aman Venice can arrange a private visit to climb the tower to view the workings of the clock and enjoy its views.

The ticket purchased for the Clock Tower tour also grants access to the three main museums of Piazza San Marco: Museo Correr, Museo Archeologico Nazionale and Biblioteca Nazionale Marciana.

Visit with a private guide for a one hour tour

Cultural Insight

The mystique of Venice has long held authors, poets, artists and travellers in its thrall. The birthplace of Marco Polo and Casanova, Venice has also been a setting for countless fictional heroes, from Shakespeare's Othello to Voltaire's Candide. A large part of the city's allure is its rich culture, apparent today in its architecture, interior design, music, art, glass, festivals and fashion.

Treasures of San Polo

Venice has always been one of Europe's major art centres, especially during the Middle Ages, Renaissance and Baroque periods when it was common for wealthy Venetians to become patrons of the arts. Early masters were Giorgione and Titian, followed by Tintoretto and Veronese. The advent of printing also raised the city's profile, as by the end of the 15th century Venice had become one of the first cities in Italy to have a printing press, after those established in Germany.

Enjoy a guided walking tour of San Polo with one of our art experts. Highlights include the churches of Santa Maria Gloriosa dei Frari, as well as the Scuola Grande di San Rocco with its notable collection of Tintoretto paintings, the birthplace of 18th-century playwright Carlo Goldoni.

Two hour guided tour

Modern Art

Today Venice is a centre of the modern art world, and Aman Venice's art experts are equally adept at revealing the city's modern masterpieces. Amongst the most important museums in Italy for European and American art of the first half of the 20th century, the Peggy Guggenheim Collection features pre-war art of Pablo Picasso, Constantin Brâncuși, Jackson Pollock, Max Ernst and many more. Then there is Ca' Pesaro, a magnificent monument and museum overlooking the Grand Canal: Since 1902, it has been the permanent seat of the International Gallery of Modern Art in Venice. Consisting of more than 3,000 works from the 20th and 21st centuries, the Pinault Collection is housed in two exceptional buildings: Palazzo Grassi, inaugurated in 2006, and Punta della Dogana, opened in 2009. These sites were restored by Japanese architect Tadao Ando, a Pritzker Prize laureate, and exhibitions include the works of artists such as Donald Judd and Jeff Koons.

**Note exhibitionas are temporary and subject to change*

Paper Marbling

More than 1,000 years old, paper marbling is an artistic technique producing beautiful marble-like patterns on paper, historically used in bookbinding and stationery. Guests of Aman Venice can learn this extremely rewarding art in a three-hour hands-on workshop with local experts, Isabella La Torre and Federico Fiorin, at the couple's studio, the renowned Arzanart. Originating in East Asia in the 9th century, paper marbling became popular in Venice in 1600. Today artisans use marbling to decorate wall panels, canvas, fabric and more, reveling in the creative possibilities of the swirling colours. Each print is a unique monotype, and Aman Venice guests take home every print they create during the workshop.

3 hours tour for up to a total of five people

Gallerie dell'Accademia

Join one of our art experts to fully appreciate this museum gallery known as the essential one-stop shop for pre-19th-century Venetian art. The Gallerie dell'Accademia is without doubt one of the world's greatest art treasure houses with paintings by Titian, Tintoretto, Veronese, Bellini, Carpaccio, Giorgione and Canaletto to name but a few.

Two hours private tour

**Currently closed on Mondays*

Teatro la Fenice

Teatro La Fenice is one of the most famous opera houses in the world, and has hosted many opera premieres since its foundation in 1792, including Verdi's Rigoletto and La Traviata. The Opera has been true to its name - the Phoenix - and has risen from the ashes on three occasions. It was completely rebuilt after the fire of 1996, and restored to its former glory. On selected dates Aman Venice guests have access to a private box, allowing a privileged view of the iconic stage. The experience includes boat transfers and aperitivi.

Musica a Palazzo

A cultural association of classical musicians who produce opera performances in the piano nobile of Palazzo Barbarigo Minotto, Musica a Palazzo follows the 19th-century Italian practice of Salotto Musicale, performing without a stage with the audience becoming part of each scene. The program changes nightly, including such famous operas as La Traviata, The Barber of Seville, Rigoletto, Tosca and Don Giovanni.

Festivals

Venice is known for its festivals and plays host to several internationally-renowned annual events. These include the Venice Carnival, the Art and Architectural Biennales and the Venice Film Festival.

Venice Carnival

In the middle of February, for the 12 days before Ash Wednesday, Venice is packed with party-goers in gorgeous costumes and masks to celebrate Carnival. Traditionally Carnival is the last lavish celebration before devout Catholics give up all things luxurious for Lent. There are improvised street shows all over the city and formal balls in the grand palazzos.

The Carnival is said to have originated from victory celebrations in 1162 when Venice defeated the Patriarch of Aquileia. The Carnival declined during the 18th century and was only reinstated in 1979. Today it attracts millions of visitors and one of the most important events is the contest for best mask – held on the last weekend of the festival and judged by a jury of international costume and fashion designers.

Venetian Biennale and Film Festival

The Venice Film Festival is the world's oldest film festival, and one of its most glamorous. Taking place every year in late August or early September on the island of Lido in the Venice Lagoon, screenings are held in the historic Palazzo del Cinema. Every second year the city hosts the Architecture Biennale and in alternating years, the renowned Art Biennale – one of the city's most important events with a history stretching back over 120 years. Both include multiple exhibitions and international pavilions and usually run between May and November.

St Mark's Day – 25 April

Saint Mark is the patron saint of Venice and his remains are interred within St. Mark's Basilica. His feast day takes place on the 25th of April each year and is also known as 'Il Bocolo'. Men give a rosebud – il bocolo – to the women in their lives. This tradition comes from the tragic legend of Vulcana, the daughter of the Doge, and Tancredi, a brave soldier, whose blood turned a rosebud red. When this sad token was delivered to his beloved, she shed no tear, but was found dead the next morning with the rosebud clasped to her heart.

La Sensa

Symbolising the marriage of the Republic of Venice with the lagoon, La Sensa is an ancient ceremony dating from the 11th century. Held on Ascension Day (usually in May or June) each year, a fleet of traditional Venetian boats accompanies the Bucintoro, the Doge's boat, to the mouth of the lagoon where a golden wedding ring is thrown into the sea to renew the union.

Redentore – 3rd Sunday in July

Redentore is one of Venice's most beloved celebrations, expressing thanks for the deliverance of the city from the plague in 1577. Every year on the third Saturday in July, Venetians and tourists alike moor their decorated boats alongside each other in the basin, drinking and eating typical Venetian dishes before the exciting climax of the evening – an incredible fireworks display over St. Mark's basin. The next day, an extraordinary 330m pontoon bridge is assembled to connect the Redentore Church in Giudecca (built to thank the Redeemer – Il Redentore – for ending the plague) and the Zattere (the south bank of Dorsoduro), so that a pilgrimage can be made on foot.

Aman Venice can arrange boat rentals of every description, depending on the how you prefer to celebrate.

Regata Storica – 1st Sunday in September

Held on the first Sunday in September, the Regata Storica is a rowing event that has been held in Venice's lagoon for hundreds of years. Today it is famed for the impressive water procession that precedes the races, when the city's highest-ranking officials are carried up the Grand Canal in 16th-century-style boats, right past the front door of Aman Venice.

Outdoor Adventures

With balmy weather for much of the year, the Veneto region and its capital city is primed for outdoor exploration and activities, whether on the water in Aman's private boat or in Venice's secret gardens, island villages and open-air piazzas.

Boating Excursions

Aman Venice can arrange personalised boating excursions on a variety of vessels, including the hotel's own sleek speedboat when available. Designed and built especially for Aman Venice, Aman is the hotel's elegant 1930's art-deco-style Venetian launch, inspired by an old photograph found in the apartment of the Count and Countess Arrivabene Valenti Gonzaga, the owners of the palazzo. The boat has three cockpits - one for the Captain and two for guests' use. Longer and wider than the usual Venetian water taxis, it features original hardware and every modern comfort. Sound-proofed, air-conditioned and heated, the spacious cabin is furnished with sofas and armchairs. It also has a music system, fridge and hot towel cabinet. The stern of the boat opens to allow easy access for swimming.

Island Hopping

Enjoy a tailor-made excursion discovering the islands of Murano, Burano and Torcello.

Murano has been a glassmaker's paradise since 1291, when glass production was transferred from Venice to the tiny island in order to prevent fire damages. Venice benefited from the sacking of Constantinople in 1204 by offering safe haven to many artisans including glassworkers. This happened again in 1453, and by the 16th century, Murano artisans were producing some of the finest, most colourful and decorative glasswork in Europe.

Burano is the island of colours and lace, of fishermen and tradition. In the morning, enjoy a bustling fish market; in the late afternoon, sunset over the lagoon when water and sky creates a kaleidoscopic backdrop to the Venetian skyline. Enjoy an aperitivo and dine at Trattoria al Gatto Nero.

Torcello was one of the first lagoon islands to be populated in 400 AD by those fleeing the mainland due to recurring invasions from the north. It is now one of the lagoon's most charming islands, crowned by the Basilica di Santa Maria Assunta, a church boasting beautiful mosaics. Dine at the famous family restaurant, Locanda Cipriani, among lovely gardens.

Boat for up to 6 persons

Hidden Venetian Gardens

In a city of stone and water, discover oases of green that thrive amid the canals of the city, often tucked away in private courtyards and noticeable only for the wisteria cascading over balustrades. Garden tours include powder-pink rose gardens, manicured hedgerows at the childhood home of Casanova, a family garden shaded by a Canadian maple, beds of lavender, Virginia creepers climbing up loggias, and vegetable gardens.

Three-hour walking tour for up to 4 persons

Lido Beaches

The Venice Lido is the long sand bank of an island that protects Venice from the Adriatic Sea. It has been a famous beach resort since the 19th century and was the star of the novella and film 'Death in Venice' by Thomas Mann. The Lido offers an old-fashioned beach experience, with grand hotels and long lines of cabanas along its sandy shores. Sea walls along the extent of the island make wonderful cycle paths. The Lido is also home to Ca' del Moro Tennis Club and Circolo Golf Venezia Golf Club.

Aman Venice can arrange bike rental for cycling excursions along the Lido.

Palladian Villas of Veneto

The Veneto mainland is home to some of the most beautiful villas in Italy, in particular those by Andrea Palladio (1508 -1580). An Italian Renaissance architect considered to be one of the most influential individuals in the history of architecture, Palladio was strongly influenced by Roman and Greek architecture. Designed for rich and powerful Venetian merchants and bankers, his 24 Palladian Villas of Veneto are Unesco-protected and known for their beautiful frescoes by painters such as Veronese and Tiepolo.

Surrounded by spectacular landscaped gardens, the villas can be visited on half- or full-day trips from Aman Venice that can also include private visits and dinners with their owners.

Driven tour for two including transfer to and from Piazzale Roma for 4 or 8 hours.

Family Activities

Celebrated throughout the world for its art and architecture, Venice is nonetheless a destination for all ages. Aman Venice offers a range of family activities that can be tailored to suit children, whether learning the arts of La Serenissima or exploring its beaches, islands and waterways.

Arts and Crafts

With masks such a significant part of the famous Venice Carnival, no trip would be complete without painting your own. For many people, masked revellers in ornate costumes are as iconic an image of Venice as gondolas and canals. Traditionally, mask makers enjoyed a special position in society, with their own laws and guild. Masks could be made of leather, porcelain or glass, and often had symbolic functions. Venice is equally famous for its glass. Learning to blow glass in Murano is another memorable family experience, as is learning the art of paper marbling.

Fun on the Water

Aman Venice offers a host of water-based activities suitable for children. These range from gondola tours and island hopping boat trips across the lagoon, to sailing and rowing lessons in historic boats. Competitive regattas are held throughout the year and are great to watch: the Vogalonga, La Sensa and the Regatta Storica are the most famous.

Bringing History Alive

The Naval History Museum in the historic Arsenale area is a wonderfully old-fashioned museum with 42 exhibition rooms. These include the Ships Pavilion with its collection of historic gondolas.

The Natural History Museum meanwhile focuses on the lagoon's natural and cultural history, housed in the 13th-century Fontego dei Turchi (the former Turkish Trading House). There are exhibitions on dinosaurs and evolution, and on Venice's great age of exploration when adventurers such as Marco Polo fetched peculiar specimens from distant lands.

Staying In

While Venice is multi-faceted enough to provide 365 days of exploration for years on end, there are always those times when you just feel like relaxing and absorbing the unique atmosphere of the palazzo itself.

Bar

The ideal setting for afternoon tea, a cocktail or a late-night tittle, the Bar offers unobstructed views of the Grand Canal and the palazzo's private garden from the Piano Nobile. Warm and inviting, with bar seating as well as generous clusters of tables and chairs, the Bar basks in late afternoon sunshine as the sun sets over the Floating City.

Salon

Located on the second piano nobile on the fourth floor is the Salon, a beautiful space overlooking the Grand Canal. Perfect for reading or simply enjoying the quiet of a beautiful room with serene views, it also hosts afternoon tea from 4pm to 6pm in the winter months or when the weather is inclement.

The palazzo's historic Library is also located on the fourth floor, adjacent to the Salon, and is a peaceful retreat housing a selection of interesting books from Count Giberto Arrivabene Gonzaga's personal collection. There are also coffee table books, magazines and daily newspapers available.

Stanza del Tiepolo

Featuring beautiful frescoes by Tiepolo, the Stanza del Tiepolo is the hotel's elegant games room, featuring chess and backgammon boards, as well as card and jigsaw tables.

Rooftop Terrace - Altana

Accessed via stairs and a lift, Aman Venice's roof terrace is intimate in scale with panoramic views of the city's rooftops and St Mark's bell tower. On a clear day, the Alps can be seen on the horizon. Particular peaceful early in the morning, it is also a serene spot for a drink and canapes at sunset.

Spa

The Spa is located, almost secretly, on the third level of the Garden Building. Access is via a small stairwell which leads to a discreet reception area. Dimly lit with low ceilings, the Spa exudes the atmosphere of a sanctuary, and provides three single treatment rooms, each with a dressing area and bathroom. One of the treatment rooms has a deep soaking tub.

Fitness Facilities

The property has a small Gym on the fourth level of the Palazzo Building. The facility offers aerobic and strength-conditioning equipment, an area for free weights and stretching, and commanding views over the city's roofline.

Garden Terrace

Fronting the Grand Canal is the Garden Terrace, one of very few private gardens on the canal. Mature trees and a quadrangle of verdant lawn provide the ideal setting for a relaxing hour or two, or an alfresco meal in the warmer months.

Private Garden

Aman has a second hidden Private Garden with soaring trees. This garden provides a serene setting for resort guests as well as walking access to San Polo through a private gate.
