JAPAN

The word 'Japan' immediately conjures up myriad diverse images: fashion-forward Harajuku girls on a Sunday afternoon in Tokyo; the serene, iconic Mount Fuji; snowboarders carving through perfect powder in Hokkaido; futuristic bullet trains; cherry-blossom-fringed pagodas in Kyoto; and seemingly shy salarymen and -women performing bizarre feats on nationally televised game shows.

The prosperous Japan of today was greatly enabled by 1947's pacifist constitution, which embraced the liberal democratic policies that set Japan on a trajectory of unbridled economic growth. Even after a crippling recession in the 1990s, the country is still home to the world's third-highest GDP and continues to be a beacon of prosperity and modernity to a continent that is sprinting to catch up with this once hermitic nation.

Although Japan's insular past is long gone, many of the old ways remain. One can still see elegant women in kimonos gingerly stepping across massive crosswalks, kabuki opera performances, and sushi masters trained in traditions dating back to the Edo period (1603–1868). What makes Japan so appealing is the harmonious confluence of 'old Japan' and 'new Japan' into one fascinating whole, firmly rooted in tradition but ever hurtling into the future.

AMAN KYOTO, JAPAN

Set in a secret garden at the heart of a 32-hectare forest, Aman Kyoto lies at the foot of Mount Hidari Daimonji, a stone's throw from Kyoto's golden Kinkaku-ji Temple and 16 other Unesco World Heritage Sites. A tranquil Aman Spa offers onsen, while serene restaurants overlook this verdant world apart. Spacious and light-filled, the resort's 26 latticed guest rooms, suites and pavilions pay contemporary homage to the traditional Japanese ryokan inn, each framing spectacular natural surroundings.

GUEST ROOMS, SUITES AND PAVILIONS

Aman Kyoto's 26 latticed guest rooms, suites and pavilions are strikingly minimalist in their geometry with ryokan features such as tatami matting and sliding doors. Starting at 60 square metres, interiors are spacious and light-filled, ingeniously crafted to foster peace, relaxation and contemplation at every turn.

DINING

Open to both guests and non-residents, the Living Pavilion by Aman complements its beautiful natural setting, reflecting the seasons with a constantly changing menu. This convivial dining space rests at the heart of Aman Kyoto, offering elegant interiors arranged around a central fireplace. Floor-to-ceiling glass doors open onto a spacious terrace, with beautiful garden and forest views. Open throughout the day and into the night, the restaurant serves home-cooked Kyoto-style cuisine, as well as a range of international dishes.

WELLNESS

Set in tranquil woodland, the resort's Aman Spa presents a wellness offering defined by nature in every way. Mineral-rich waters feed traditional onsen, while a range of treatments tap into Japan's plentiful natural apothecary. Both the elegant spa reception area and the relaxation lounge claim mesmerising forest views, as do three spacious treatment suites. The forest itself is an extension of the Spa, serving as a serene setting for guided yoga, meditation and shinrin-yoku ('forest bathing') experiences.

Day 1

Sunday, 17 April 2022

Aman Kyoto, Nara Room (Kyoto, Japan)

Included Meals: D

You will be met in the arrivals hall at Itami or Kansai Airport in Osaka, Japan or in Kyoto Station. Look for an Aman signboard.

Private transfer to your hotel (approximately 1 hour from the airport or 20 minutes from the train station).

Welcome Cocktails and Dinner - 18:00: A private cocktail reception will be held in the restaurant with a special guest. Meet your fellow travellers and enjoy dinner afterwards.

Day 2

Monday, 18 April 2022

Aman Kyoto, Nara Room (Kyoto, Japan)

Included Meals: B

Breakfast: Have breakfast at your hotel.

Pick-up time: 09:00

Return time: 17:00

TODAY'S SUGGESTED ACTIVITIES:

Zen Meditation: Led by a monk, learn the proper breathing techniques and practices of Zen meditation, or zazen. The primary Buddhist religious practice, meditation is done while sitting and is meant to suspend judgemental thoughts with the aim of attaining enlightenment. In Kyoto, the Rinzai school is the dominant sect of Zen Buddhism.

The Golden Pavilion: Visit Kinkaku-ji, or the 'Golden Pavilion', one of Kyoto's most iconic images. Located in the western reaches of the city, the temple was built as a retirement villa by one of the Ashikaga shoguns in the fifteenth century. The present building, whose exterior is fully covered in gold leaf, is actually an exact replica of the original temple, which was destroyed by arson.

by a deranged monk in 1950. It remains, though, one of the most exquisite and perfect buildings in Kyoto's cityscape, and has beautiful gardens as well. Please note, however, that with its tremendous popularity comes a very high volume of visitors, both foreign and domestic, and visiting here is not likely to be as peaceful as some of your other temple visits in Kyoto.

Ryoan-ji Temple: With its world-famous stone garden (karesansui), Ryoan-ji is one of Kyoto's Unesco World Heritage sites. The Zen rock garden, measuring 247 square metres in area, is believed to have been originally landscaped in the fifteenth century. It consists of 15 small moss-covered boulders in a sea of raked white gravel, and is laid out so that when viewing the garden from any angle (other than a bird's-eye view), only 14 rocks are visible – the 15th becoming visible, it is said, upon enlightenment.

Philosopher's Walk: Go for a stroll along the Philosopher's Walk, named so after a Kyoto University philosophy professor, Nishida Kitaro (1870 – 1945), who trod this path along the man-made Shishigatani canal daily. The path, which is about 1.6 miles long and stretches from near Nanzen-ji up to Ginkaku-ji, takes you past several temples and shrines and side streets lined with coffeehouses, boutiques and craft shops. Cherry and maple trees line the walkways, making the Philosopher's Walk popular year-round.

Lunch: Have lunch at a casual local restaurant of your choosing.

Nijo Castle: Visit the magnificent Nijo Castle, one of Kyoto's Unesco sites. The castle's construction was decreed by Tokugawa Ieyasu (1543-1616), the founder and first shogun of the Tokugawa Shogunate of Japan, which ruled for the entire Edo period (1600-1803). Following a decisive victory in battle in 1600, he ordered feudal lords in western Japan to build Nijo-jo as his place of residence when he visited from Edo (Tokyo). Today, the castle remains remarkably well preserved and its main hall is open to the public for an extensive walking tour. The great hall is evocative of feudal Japan, transporting its visitors back to the era of the samurai. Nijo Castle also has lovely gardens that are known for their variety of rocks and plant life, and many of the buildings are fitted with the famous 'nightingale' floors, constructed so that the 'bird song' of nails chirping against wood would alert the shogun to any intruders.

Kokedera: Visit Saihoji, commonly referred to as Kokedera, which means 'moss temple'. This Unesco World Heritage Site greatly limits the number of visitors to the grounds to preserve the quality of the moss. The site was once home to Prince Shotoku during the Nara period and was later transformed into a Zen monastery. It is famous for possessing over 100 varieties of moss, covering the property in an almost alien green. For those interested, the monks lead classes in kito (chanting) and shakyo (transcribing Buddhist sutra, or holy texts). Please note that access to Kokedera requires special permission (typically 2-3 months in advance via application letter). Due to a restricted admission policy, it is very difficult to get into Kokedera at this time.

Cocktails and Sake Tasting at Robert Yellin Yakimono

Gallery: Visit Robert Yellin Yakimono Gallery to see the curated selection of ceramics from the potters of Japan, both antique pieces and those by contemporary artists. Robert Yellin is a Japanese pottery specialist and a licensed antique dealer. Robert has resided in Japan since 1984 and regularly writes for numerous publications about Japanese ceramics as well as giving lectures about the art. Robert will discuss with you the history of Japanese pottery and show you his collection.

While at the gallery, enjoy cocktails and try Japan's signature liquor: sake. The production of sake can be traced back to the third century, when a similar, more crude concoction was introduced from China. Since then sake has been Japan's national alcoholic drink, featuring in historic art and literature, and it is still the choice tipple for special occasions.

Dinner: Enjoy dinner at your leisure.

Day 3

Tuesday, 19 April 2022

Aman Kyoto, Nara Room (Kyoto, Japan)

Included Meals: B D

Breakfast: Have breakfast at your hotel.

Pick-up time: 09:00

Return time: 17:00

TODAY'S SUGGESTED ACTIVITIES:

Arashiyama Bamboo Forest: Drive to the gorgeous Arashiyama Bamboo Forest, one of the most highly regarded in all of Japan and a unique setting. Get out of the car and take a stroll through the park.

Monkey Park in Arashiyama: If you wish, visit the Monkey Park, located in Arashiyama. It is inhabited by a troop of over 170 Japanese macaque monkeys, also known as 'snow monkeys'. They are the most northern-dwelling primates in the world. The animals are wild but can be fed food purchased at the park. In addition to the monkeys, visitors can also see wild deer and over 100 species of birds.

Fushimi Inari-taisha Shrine: Make a visit to the iconic Fushimi Inari-taisha, a popular Shinto shrine well known for the thousands of vermilion torii (Japanese shrine gateways) lining the paths on the hill. Inari, the Shinto god to whom the shrine is dedicated, is the patron of business as well as the god of rice. Each torii was donated by individuals or companies in gratitude and to gain merit. Fushimi Inari holds over 10,000 gates that date back to AD 711. Follow the torii-lined paths and stop at various food stalls that specialise in kitsune udon noodles.

Lunch: Enjoy lunch at a casual local restaurant of your choosing.

Miho Museum: Embark on a half-day trip to the I.M. Pei-designed Miho Museum, located about 1.5 hours by car southwest of Kyoto and considered one of Asia's finest museums. The museum was the dream of Mihoko Koyama (after whom it is named), the heiress to the Toyobo textile business, and one of the richest women in Japan. It houses Koyama's private collection of Asian and Western antiques, as well as other pieces with an estimated value of several hundred million US dollars. Each exhibit in the Miho Museum was carefully selected as much for its artistic beauty as its historical significance, and careful attention is paid to how the collection is displayed.

Pei's design, which he came to call Shangri-La, is executed in a forested landscape. Approximately three-quarters of the 17,400-square-metre building is situated underground, carved out of a rocky mountaintop. The roof is a large glass and steel construction, while the exterior and interior walls and floor are made of a warm beige-coloured limestone from France - the same material used by Pei in the reception hall of the Louvre. The Miho's hilly position gives visitors a clear view to another of Pei's works commissioned by Koyama, the bell tower at Misono.

OPTIONAL EXPERIENCE:

Private Tea Ceremony: Round out your immersion in traditional culture with a private tea ceremony. Also with roots in Buddhist traditions, Japanese tea ceremonies can range from the simple to the elaborate, but all share common elements of ritual bowing, body posture, how to pour tea, how to receive it and how to drink it. Sample wagashi during your tea ceremony. Wagashi is a traditional Japanese confectionery which is often served with tea for tea ceremonies. They are made with mochi, azuki bean paste, fruits, sweet potato, etc. Additional cost.

AS AN ALTERNATIVE TO TODAY'S TOURING IN KYOTO, WE SUGGEST:

Day Trip to Nara: An architecture and history buff's dream, Nara was the capital of Japan from 710 to 784, lending its name to the Nara period. The original city, Heijo-kyo, was modelled after the capital of Tang Dynasty China, Chang'an (present-day Xi'an). Highlights of Nara include Horyu-ji – home to two of the oldest wooden buildings in the world – as well as Todai-ji, Kasuga Grand Shrine and Nigatsu-do and Sangatsu-do Halls.

After touring, return to your hotel to relax and freshen up before dinner.

At 18:30, meet your guide in the lobby.

Private Geisha Entertainment During Dinner - 19:00:

Over a set dinner in a private room, be entertained by a three-person troupe typically comprising a geisha, a maiko and a jikata (shamisen player). Geisha are known for their wit, beauty and encyclopaedic knowledge of traditional arts. They entertain their guests with traditional dances, jovial drinking games and lighthearted conversation. The performances are masterful - the delicate gestures are minimal and subtle, but incredibly graceful with a deliberate precision. Traditionally, one is unable to enter the establishment unless referred by an existing patron.

Day 4

Wednesday, 20 April 2022

Amanpulo, Beach Casita (Palawan, Philippines)

Included Meals: B L D

Breakfast: Have breakfast at your hotel.

09:00: Meet in the lobby for your private transfer to the airport (approximately 1 hour).

11:00 – 13:59: Private jet from Osaka, Japan, to Manila, Philippines (3 hours 59 minutes, -1 hour time difference).

Lunch: Will be served on board the jet during this flight.

PHILIPPINES

The Philippines is a South-East Asian archipelago composed of 7,000 lush tropical islands with long pristine beaches, clear turquoise waters, active volcanoes and rainforest-covered mountains. The former American and Spanish colony has close cultural ties to the United States; 82% of the population is Roman Catholic and the people generally speak excellent English. English and Filipino are the official languages, but well over 100 indigenous languages are spoken across the islands by as many ethnic groups. Filipino culture and cuisine are accordingly rich and diverse, incorporating influences from China, Japan, Spain, and the United States. The country's friendly people, vibrant culture and exquisite natural scenery have made it a popular destination for travellers from around the world.

AMANPULO, PALAWAN, PHILIPPINES

Set on its own private island in the Sulu Sea, Amanpulo is the quintessential tropical paradise. On arrival at this whisper-quiet retreat guests are greeted by cerulean skies and turquoise waters. Amanpulo offers an abundance of aquatic activities, including sailing, scuba diving and windsurfing, as well as beautiful stretches of deserted beach. On land, tennis courts and bicycles are complemented by nature walks, which take in the lush indigenous plants and myriad wildlife.

Palawan is one of the most beautiful places in the Philippines, and perhaps even the world. Its raw natural setting evokes images of paradise, from its limestone karst islands, hidden lagoons and white-sand beaches to its world-class dive sites. There are dense forests and valley deltas amid the diverse topography. Best of all, most of it remains undeveloped.

CASITAS

Loosely modelled after native bahay kubo dwellings with an open-plan, twin-roofed design, Amanpulo's Casitas offer luxury accommodation with direct beach access via sandy footpaths, magnificent views of the turquoise sea from the hillside, or seclusion within the forest canopy. Broad wooden decks, hammocks in secluded bowers and pebble-washed walls are just some of the traditional Palawan Island elements included. Two Casitas have private plunge pools.

RESTAURANTS, WELLNESS & FACILITIES

At the heart of the island on a gentle rise is the Clubhouse, home to the Restaurant, the Bar, a library, boutique and a terrace overlooking the 30-metre swimming pool. A garden walkway leads from the pool to the white-sand beach. Here, the Beach Club provides light meals with a focus on fresh seafood and Spanish cuisine from its open-air pavilion and deck. On the island's east side, Nama at the Lagoon Club specialises in fine Japanese dining, sushi and sashimi. Pizzas cooked in traditional wood-fired ovens are served at the casual Picnic Grove.

Amanpulo's Aman Spa is situated on a hillside and consists of a series of pavilions housing a reception area, treatment rooms and a finishing salon with beautiful sea views. The Pilates pavilion also enjoys beautiful views. The fitness pavilion houses the yoga studio, a gym, hydrotherapy suites and outdoor relaxation areas.

Day 4

Windsurfing: The island's sand-bottomed blue lagoon, located on the windward side, makes for world-class board sailing from December to April. During this period, the northeast trade winds blow, on average, at about 20 knots.

Fishing: Catch snapper and grouper at one of the resort's favoured fishing spots or trawl for wahoo, tuna and mackerel. The resort's 7-metre (25-foot) centre-console game boat is equipped with a four-line spread for game fishing.

Snorkelling: Paddle out to the reef in a Hobie ocean kayak, tie up at one of several buoys and take to the water from there. The reef facing the Beach Club is a popular stop. Hawksbill and green sea turtles, parrot fish, rays and a wide array of coral fish live in these waters. Snorkellers can also wade in from the beach

Scuba Diving: The Dive Centre offers PADI courses ranging from introductory to Divemaster level. Amanpulo is ideal for novice divers, with its calm, clear seas in front of the Beach Club. More advanced divers can take advantage of the gentle drop-off to deeper waters. There are a number of fine sites on both sides of Pamalican, all just a few minutes offshore by boat. Certified divers should bring their certification cards with them. All scuba equipment is provided.

INDONESIA

Indonesia, the world's fourth most populous country and one of the most culturally diverse, is sprawled across more than 17,000 islands with over 300 different ethnicities and languages. Many travellers head straight to the Hindu island of Bali, but there is much more to this vast country. The people, most of whom are moderate Muslims, range from modern urban professionals in Jakarta, to village farmers and fishermen on many of the islands, to Stone-Age tribal people in West Papua. A former Dutch colony that became independent in the wake of the Second World War, Indonesia is a land of rich cultural and religious heritage, fascinating architecture, unique wildlife, remote village life and superb beaches and diving.

AMANDARI, BALI, INDONESIA

Amandari's lobby was designed to resemble a wantilan (village meeting place), with coconut wood posts, Javanese marble and volcanic stone. The resort's 30 suites each come with a private garden, courtyard and outdoor sunken marble bath. The open-air Restaurant serves Indonesian and Western cuisine with views of the lush gorge. Amenities at Amandari include a swimming pool, fitness centre with state-of-the-art machines, private outdoor yoga classes, tennis courts and a library with e-mail and internet access. The spa is surrounded by a lotus pond and has a beauty room, sauna, steam room and two bales (gazebos). Wi-fi is available in all rooms and public areas.

Surrounded by rice fields, villages, temples, palaces, rivers and art and craft communities, Ubud is a cultural centre where life moves at a leisurely pace, particularly in comparison to Bali's more cosmopolitan cities of Denpasar and Seminyak. Ubud is Bali's centre for fine arts, dance and music, with convenient access to neighbouring villages, well known for their stone and wood carvings as well as bamboo and wooden furniture. In the town proper, you will find plentiful boutiques, restaurants and massage spas, all of which make Ubud one of Bali's most relaxing destinations.

SUITES

Balinese-style stone gateways front Amandari's thatched-roof suites, which open on three sides via sliding glass doors to lush garden courtyards. Paras stone walls ensure complete privacy, and interiors feature coconut and teak wood accents. Single-storey or duplex, some Suites offer views of the valley and rice terraces, while some feature private plunge pools.

DINING & RELAXATION

Amandari's open-sided Restaurant overlooks the resort's 32-metre swimming pool, which is situated close to the lip of the gorge. Every evening, gamelan players or local dancers perform from the music pavilion behind the pool. The Restaurant serves Western and local Indonesian dishes for breakfast, lunch and dinner. The adjacent Bar, with its terrace seating, enjoys a similar setting and views.

Day 7

Saturday, 23 April 2022

Amandari, Village Suite (Bali, Indonesia)

14:55: Arrive Denpasar, Indonesia (3 hours 55 minutes).

Private transfer to Amandari (approximately 1 hour).

Welcome Cocktails and Dinner – 18:00: Gather for cocktails and dinner with a special guest.

Day 8

Sunday, 24 April 2022

Amandari, Village Suite (Bali, Indonesia)

Included Meals: B D

Breakfast: Enjoy breakfast in the restaurant.

Pick-up time: 09:00

Return time: 17:00

TODAY'S SUGGESTED ACTIVITIES:

Rice Terraces: Go on a hike with your guide through the rice terraces outside Ubud, where you will pass local farmers in their fields. Bali is at once a tiny island and yet deceptively large, and there are many amazing hidden temples in remote villages that outsiders know nothing about, which you may encounter on your hike today.

Balinese Special Blessing: During your hike, meet with a priest who will prepare offerings for you and invite you to perform a Balinese prayer with him. You will receive a special private blessing with holy water at a small temple in one of the villages.

Holy Spring Water Temple (Tirta Empul): Visit Tirta Empul Temple. Founded in AD 962, the active water temple complex is highly significant in Bali and is reputed to have holy waters. Water spouts line two purification pools within the temple, and it is customary for the Balinese to purify themselves by standing underneath the spouts. The inner courtyard section of the temple, called the Jeroan, is used for contemplation and prayer. There is also a central courtyard as well as a koi pond.

Lunch: Enjoy lunch at a casual local restaurant of your choosing.

Sarsawati Temple: Visit Sarsawati Temple, or the Lotus Pond Temple. Waters from the temple at the rear of the site feed the pond in the front, which overflows with pretty lotus blossoms. There are carvings that honour Dewi Saraswati, the goddess of wisdom and the arts, who has clearly given her blessing to Ubud. Please note this is a private family temple and access is not guaranteed on the day of visit.

Ubud Market: There are two popular markets in Ubud, located a short distance away from one another in the centre of town: a traditional market, featuring local wares, fruits and street food, and the Ubud Arts Market, which specialises in local handicrafts and folk art. Both locations are frequented by Balinese natives and travellers alike, making them ideal places to immerse yourself in the everyday reality of Balinese culture.

Amangalla, Chamber (Galle, Sri Lanka)

Included Meals: B L D

07:30: Meet in the lobby for your private transfer to the airport (approximately 1 hour).

09:30-13:07: Private jet from Denpasar, Indonesia, to Colombo, Sri Lanka (6 hours 7 minutes, - 2 hours 30 minutes time difference).

Breakfast and Lunch: Will be served on board the jet during this flight.

SRI LANKA

Visit Sri Lanka today and the feeling is unmistakable – a new day has dawned. For the first time in its recorded history, this island is free from foreign invasion, colonial influence or civil war. From ancient Chola kings (Tamils from South India who invaded across a land bridge that once connected the subcontinent) to the Portuguese, who landed in 1505, the Dutch (1648) and the British (1815), foreigners have long sought this land of stunning beauty and fabled riches. The island's different names over the centuries – Taprobane to Greek geographers, Serendib to the Arabs and Ceylon to the Europeans – further evoke an exotic paradise in the Indian Ocean.

Today, Sri Lanka (Sanskrit for ‘venerable island’) beckons travellers with its physical beauty, diversity of experiences and kind people. From cultural and natural World Heritage Sites, to marvellous beaches and stunning mountain trekking, 5-star hotels and much more, Sri Lanka truly has it all.

AMANGALLA, GALLE, SRI LANKA

In the historic port of Galle, Amangalla sits within the ramparts of Galle Fort. Named after Galla, the Sinhalese word for the town of Galle, the resort reveals the Fort's daily activities and rich legacy, its narrow streets lined with buildings from the Dutch and British colonial eras. Offering views of the resort's 200-year-old gardens and of the Fort and harbour beyond, Amangalla provides for the leisurely exploration of this still-thriving trading port and the surrounding countryside.

Gentle strolls directly from the hotel unravel the unique history of this magnificent 36-hectare hexagonal stone fort, revealing colonial buildings still in use today, bustling narrow streets proffering the crafts of many generations, and the ramparts and seawall, where locals and visitors alike gather to fly kites, play cricket or simply inhale the wonders of the town's maritime legacy.

CHAMBERS

Ten Chambers are located within the Church Street Wing and face the Fort ramparts. The entry leads into the open-plan room, featuring bathroom, bedroom and separate sitting area. The bathroom has a large shower and free-standing bathtub. A gracious and authentic turn-of-the-century ambience is recreated with a four-poster kingsize or twin bed arrangement, planter's chair, writing desk, dining table and a pettagama chest perched atop gleaming teak floorboards.

DINING AND RELAXATION

The Zaal – the Great Hall – as it was known in Dutch times, is the entry point to the resort and features high ceilings, overhead fans and chandeliers. There is relaxed seating within as well as on the veranda facing the tree-lined street. The menu provides light meals and snacks in the morning, and afternoon tea is served daily. Adjacent is the Dining Room, which provides an intimate setting for dining with a colonial accent. The Dining Room is furnished with period chairs and tables, crisp white linen and antique silverware, with many of the original pieces having been returned to their rightful place in the room.

With its candlelit recesses, lofty ceilings and dramatic archways, Amangalla's Spa and Baths, recaptures a bygone era of taking the waters as restoration for body and mind. The two hydrotherapy suites offer hot and cold plunge pools, steam rooms and saunas, while a range of therapies personalised by the spa's Ayurvedic physician include massages, anointments, reflexology and scrubs.

Day 9

Monday, 25 April 2022

Amangalla, Chamber (Galle, Sri Lanka)

Included Meals: B L D

13:07: Arrive in Colombo, Sri Lanka by private jet (6 hours 7 minutes, -2 hours 30 minutes time difference).

Private transfer to Amangalla (2 hours).

After checking in, freshen up before stepping out for touring.

TODAY'S SUGGESTED ACTIVITIES:

Galle Fort: Spend time walking through the Dutch fort and along the old ramparts overlooking the turquoise sea. The fort covers 36 hectares (90 acres) and includes the well-preserved Groote Kerk (Dutch Church), Dutch Government House, the New Oriental Hotel (built in 1684), an old bell tower and, perhaps most impressively, a tide-based sewage system. The Fort was established by the Portuguese in 1505 when a small foreign trading post was built. In 1640, the Dutch captured Galle, and by 1663 they had constructed great ramparts and massive bastions to protect their interests. Within these ramparts, narrow streets are lined with houses displaying their Dutch and English heritage. Flanked by pillared verandas, these colonial homes and government offices remain in use today.

Galle Lighthouse: As you stroll within the walls of the ancient Galle Fort, approach the southern end of the promontory to admire the beautiful lighthouse of Galle Harbour, Sri Lanka's oldest light station. The 26.5-metre (87-foot) lighthouse, now synonymous with Galle's waterfront, was erected in 1939 and replaced the original 24.5-metre (80-foot) pillar built by the British in 1848, when it was destroyed by fire in the early 1930s.

Welcome Cocktails and Dinner - 18:00: Gather together for cocktails and dinner with special guest.

Day 10

Tuesday, 26 April 2022

Amangalla, Chamber (Galle, Sri Lanka)

Included Meals: B

Breakfast: Enjoy breakfast in the Dining Room.

EXPERIENCES: Explore Galle Fort on foot accompanied by your private butler to learn the history of the UNESCO World Heritage Site.

TODAY'S SUGGESTED ACTIVITIES:

Galle National Museum: Housed in an old Dutch building at the centre of the Fort, the museum features exhibits on colonial weaponry, including a collection of Portuguese and Dutch swords, stone cannonballs and battle axes made of brass and iron. Native handicrafts such as turtle-shell ornaments and decorative pieces are also on display.

Maritime Archaeology Museum: Destroyed in the 2004 tsunami, the collection has been re-established in the newly renovated Dutch warehouse in Galle Fort. The exhibits of artefacts discovered on the ocean floor around Sri Lanka include the Avondster, a Dutch ship that wrecked off Galle Fort in 1659.

Lunch: Enjoy lunch on your own at your choice of restaurants.

Temples of Yatagala and Rumassala: Carved directly into the rocks atop a hill near the town of Unawatuna, the ancient temple of Yatagala is one of the oldest in the region. Visitors and pilgrims must climb a flight of 120 well-trodden stone steps, and the hilltop offers sweeping views of the lush surrounding valley and its terrace farms. Perched on another nearby hill, Rumssala is a brand new temple, built in 2005 by Japanese Buddhist monks trying to bring peace to the region - at the time, the Sri Lankan government was still engaged in a bloody civil war with a separatist insurgency.

Gem Shopping: In a country where precious gems are mined, jewelry shops are in abundance. Browse the shops in search of treasure and don't forget to bargain. Please keep in mind that buying gems in Asia as a visitor is always a risky endeavor. Before making any purchases, be sure to inquire as to the return policy for the gems. With that in mind, we advise that you do not purchase any jewels with the intention of resale, but rather buy reasonably priced jewelry that you enjoy for its aesthetic qualities.

Handunugoda Tea Museum: This family-owned plantation is a living, working museum — its fields still brim with tea plants, and the 19th-century machinery still processes the leaves, producing small batches of high-quality tea. Tours educate visitors about the tea-making process, and offer samples of Handunugoda's own stock.

Dinner: Enjoy dinner at Amangalla's Dining Room or a local restaurant on your own.

Day 11

Wednesday, 27 April 2022

Burj Al Arab, One-Bedroom Deluxe Suite (Dubai, UAE)

Included Meals: B L D

08:00: Meet in the lobby for your private transfer to the airport (approximately 2 hours + traffic).

11:00 - 14:20: Private jet from Colombo, Sri Lanka, to Dubai, UAE (4 hours 50 minutes, -1 hour 30 minutes time difference).

Breakfast and Lunch: Will be served on board the jet during this flight.

UAE

The United Arab Emirates (UAE) is a federation of seven emirates and is a constitutional republic. Thanks to vast reserves of oil and gas, the UAE's economy has grown into a powerhouse in recent decades, and today such cities as Abu Dhabi, the capital, and Dubai are now full-fledged centres of international commerce – as well as world-class recreational destinations for the wealthy. The UAE has the sixth-highest per-capita GDP in the world, just ahead of the United States of America, with high literacy rates and life expectancy averages to go with its wealth. Though the country has rapidly risen to global prominence in fewer than five decades of existence, its people have not lost touch with their Arabian roots. The glittering skylines of Dubai and Abu Dhabi belie the rich cultural and religious traditions that still influence the daily lives of their citizens.

BURJ AL ARAB, DUBAI, UAE

The Burj Al Arab was designed to resemble a billowing sail, its dramatic and unique architecture dominating the Dubai skyline at over 300 metres (1,000 feet) tall. The Burj is over-the-top in every way, from its atrium lobby and 202 lavishly decorated duplex suites, to its Rolls Royce and helicopter airport transfers and personalised service. Like everything else at the Burj, the Assawan Spa and Health Club has the latest high-tech training equipment, as well as squash courts and swimming pools. Yoga, non-impact aerobics and other fitness classes are scheduled.

The most populous city within the seven United Arab Emirates, Dubai was once a tranquil coastal town of courtyard houses and palm-frond huts known primarily for pearl diving. Today it is a metropolis on overdrive: flashy, fun and more than slightly surreal. Sparkling skyscrapers tower over the old city's minarets, and it seems that the ambition of Dubai's business elite knows no bounds. Running out of coastline on which to build, they simply created huge artificial islands that added over 110 kilometres (70 miles) of new beachfront to the city. Dubai is also home to the tallest structure on earth, the Burj Khalifa, an office and residential skyscraper 828 metres (2,717 feet) high.

ROOMS AND SUITES

Featuring floor-to-ceiling windows with panoramic views of the Arabian Gulf, each suite includes an iPad, complimentary wi-fi, an iMac and widescreen interactive HD TV. A Bose iPhone docking station and media hub is also available.

DINING

The Sky View Bar is suspended 200 metres (656 feet) above sea level and is ideal for afternoon tea and cocktails. Al Muntaha is the Burj Al Arab's signature fine-dining restaurant serving contemporary European cuisine. Villa Beach restaurant, located right on the beach, is open every day for lunch and dinner.

Day 11

Wednesday, 27 April 2022

Burj Al Arab, One-Bedroom Deluxe Suite (Dubai, UAE)

Included Meals: B L D

14:20: Arrive in Dubai, UAE, by private jet (4 hours 50 minutes, -1 hour 30 minutes time difference).

Private transfer to Burj Al Arab (approximately 30 minutes).

TODAY'S SUGGESTED ACTIVITIES:

Al Fahidi Historic District: Step back in time and enjoy the atmosphere of Al Fahidi Historic District, one of the oldest traditional Emirati neighbourhoods in Bur Dubai. The construction dates back to the late 1800s. In its prime, the locality was capable of supporting 60 housing units, most of which were separated by narrow, winding lanes. Traditionally a stronghold of rich residents, the locality's demographic changed with the discovery of oil, which resulted in many rich families relocating to other parts of the city. As a result, expatriate families moved into the area.

Welcome Cocktails and Dinner – 18:00: Gather for cocktails and dinner at Burj Al Arab's signature restaurant.

Day 12

Thursday, 28 April 2022

Burj Al Arab, One-Bedroom Deluxe Suite (Dubai, UAE)

Included Meals: B

Breakfast: Enjoy breakfast in the Dining Room.

Pick-up time: 09:00

Return time: 17:00

TODAY'S SUGGESTED ACTIVITIES:

Abra Ride: For a taste of old Dubai, take a traditional abra (water taxi) across the creek. These traditional wooden dhows were used by the local Emirati to cross the creek.

Gold, Spice, Perfume and Textile Souks: Stroll through the dazzling souks, which offer an array of local goods. As you move on from one shop to another, you will be enveloped by sensory delights.

Jumeirah Mosque: Visit the Jumeirah Mosque, the only mosque in Dubai that is open to the public and dedicated to receiving non-Muslim guests. Built of stones in medieval Fatimid style, the mosque is a city landmark with its twin minarets and majestic dome.

Ski Dubai: At the Mall of the Emirates, visit Ski Dubai, an indoor ski resort that offers skiing, snowboarding and tobogganing (or just playing in the artificial snow). It covers an expanse of over 22,000 square metres, with fresh powder year-round. Runs of varying difficulty include the world's first indoor black diamond slope and a quarter pipe. Appropriate clothing and equipment can be provided.

Snow Penguin Experience: Take some time to cuddle up with Ski Dubai's colony of gentoo and king penguins. These adorable birds are available for viewing as well as meetings, up close and personal! Touch, feed and play with several penguin species in a specially created environment. Please note this activity comes at an additional cost.

AS AN ALTERNATIVE TO TODAY'S TOURING IN DUBAI, WE SUGGEST:

Full day Excursion to Abu Dhabi: This morning, drive approximately 1 hour (or take a helicopter from Dubai to Abu Dhabi [45 minutes] at an additional cost) for a full day of exploration, that can include the following:

Louvre Abu Dhabi: The highly-anticipated museum has caused a massive buzz across the global art scene ever since the ambitious project was unveiled back in 2007 and now you can take a look inside. The architectural marvel is a must-see tourist attraction. It will boast more than 600 artworks, spanning myriad cultures and periods, including 300 masterpieces on loan from 13 key institutions, including famous works from masters such as Leonardo da Vinci, Henri Matisse and Edouard Manet.

Abu Dhabi Falcon Hospital: Representing the passion of Bedoins, falcons are the national emblem of the UAE. Dating back centuries, falconry is a unique tradition that is well preserved in Abu Dhabi. The Abu Dhabi Falcon Hospital has been internationally recognised for its innovative programme. Visit two beautiful museums with rare falcon and falconry displays. You can interact directly with those fabulous birds of prey and take pictures as an unforgettable memory of your visit and even witness free flying falcons.

Sheikh Zayed Grand Mosque: Visit the Sheikh Zayed Grand Mosque, which is the third largest mosque in the world. It is considered to be the key for worship in the country. Sheikh Zayed Grand Mosque was built by former UAE president, Sheikh Zayed bin Sultan Al Nahyan, who wanted to establish a structure which unites the cultural diversity of the Islamic world, art, and the historical and modern values of architecture.

Dinner: Have dinner at your leisure.

Day 13

Friday, 29 April 2022

Amanruya, Pool Pavilion Garden View (Bodrum, Turkey)

Included Meals: B L D

Breakfast: Have breakfast at your hotel.

10:30: Meet in the lobby for your private transfer to the airport (approximately 30 minutes).

12:00-16:05: Private jet from Dubai, UAE, to Bodrum, Turkey (5 hours 5 minutes, -1 hour time difference).

Lunch: Will be served on board the jet during this flight.

TURKEY

Turkey is a land of vast open spaces and massive mountain ranges, fertile valleys and rugged coastline, fast-growing cities and sleepy coastal villages, seaside resorts and remote beaches. The country overflows with historical sites and archaeological wonders and its Mediterranean coastline boasts well-preserved Roman cities and other-worldly landscapes. Cuisine is the heart of Turkish culture. For the sociable and family-orientated Turks, gathering together and eating well is a time-honoured ritual. Enjoy olive oil-lathered Aegean vegetables, spicy Anatolian kebabs and baklava for dessert!

AMANRUYA, BODRUM, TURKEY

The turquoise Aegean laps Amanruya's private pebble beach, while ancient pine forests scent the air. Resting amid olive groves and cypress trees on the Bodrum Peninsula's serene north coast, the village-like resort is a secluded retreat offering an abundance of space and privacy.

Set on the quietest of bays, Amanruya's guest pavilions are free-standing, with unusually large private pools. Meandering footpaths lead to the property's heart where restaurants, a spa and three-storey library overlook a marble infinity pool. Beyond the property lie ancient Greek and Roman ruins in spectacular natural surroundings, including Unesco-protected Ephesus, Priene, Miletus and Didyma. These cultural relics vie for attention with sun-kissed beaches and villages forgotten by time.

PAVILIONS

Amanruya's freestanding Pavilions feature their private garden and a marble swimming pool, heated in winter. Each includes a four-poster bed, a dining area, a traditional Turkish fireplace, heated floors and a large bathroom. In the gardens are pergolas with large cushioned daybeds.

DINING

The resort offers several dining venues serving Turkish and Mediterranean cuisines, all with beautiful sea views. The tranquil Pool Dining Pavilion overlooks the main swimming pool and the bay beyond, while the Wine Cellar is an atmospheric setting for special events with its lofty vaulted ceiling and serene views. Located higher on the hillside, the Dining Pavilion offers a slim, wraparound balcony and panoramic ocean views. The spacious Lounge with its divan-style seating, dark beams and wraparound windows is the ideal venue in which to enjoy afternoon tea or an evening cocktail. Guests can also take time out in the elegant Wine Lounge or the more casual open-air Pool Pavilion.

TODAY'S SUGGESTED ACTIVITIES:

Bodrum Castle: Built in the early fifteenth century, Bodrum castle remains a medieval relic, fortified with green volcanic stones and marble columns. It is now home to the Museum of Underwater Archaeology. A visit to the castle should also take in the marina and adjacent narrow lanes that are the hub of contemporary city life.

Ephesus: Once the second-largest city in the world, Ephesus is one of the best-preserved ancient sites on the globe. After 150 years of excavation, just a fraction of the city has been unearthed, including several temples, library, theatre, colonnaded street and gate. It lies near the ancient town of Priene, as well as the 15,000-seat amphitheatre at Miletus.

Pottery Making: Pottery making has been a Turkish tradition and artform since the early days of the Ottoman Empire. Using distinctive red clay, artisans in the village of Mumcular offer an opportunity to watch the creation process and invite you to try it for yourself.

Lunch: Have lunch at a casual local restaurant of your choosing.

Local Villages: Take time today to visit local villages. Etrim is known for producing wonderfully intricate hand-knotted carpets. Witness the spinning and dyeing of the thread on your visit, as well as the weaving process itself - a craft that has been passed down the generations in the village. You may also visit the fishing village of Gümüşlük for daytime dives that explore the sunken ancient city of Myndos and hikes at dusk that capture the sunset between the gentle sloping coves.

PELOPONNESE, GREECE

The historic peninsula of the Peloponnese is home to great archeological sites such as ancient Olympia, Epidaurus, Byzantine churches and castles. Alongside history and culture, the natural beauty is replete with white-sand beaches, warm clear waters, mountains, forests and caves, making the Peloponnese a coveted holiday destination.

AMANZOE, PELOPONNESE, GREECE

Drawing its name from the Sanskrit word for 'peace' and zoe, the Greek word for 'life', Amanzoe is situated on a hilltop close to the town of Porto Heli on the eastern coast of the Peloponnese. Situated on a gentle rise surrounded by undulating olive groves, Amanzoe's 360-degree views take in the Peloponnese countryside and rocky coves. Designed by renowned architect Ed Tuttle, Amanzoe's design is influenced by classical Greek architecture, reminiscent of the Ancient Greek Agora and the Acropolis.

PAVILIONS, BEACH CABANAS & VILLAS

Drawing on classical Greek architecture, with strong lines and a pared-back aesthetic, Amanzoe's standalone Pavilions all open onto terraces with private plunge pools and views of the surrounding land and sea. Each Pavilion is accessed via a stone-walled courtyard, leading to a high-ceilinged living area and kingsize bed positioned in a marble alcove with views. Situated directly on the beach, the spacious, air-conditioned Beach Cabanas provide all the comforts of a Pavilion, combined with a terrace, private garden and swimming pool. Amanzoe's Villas are cool, spacious abodes surrounded by olive groves. Overlooking the Aegean Sea, each of the Villas features an open terrace with sand-coloured marble floors, traditional dry stone-clad walls, and concrete columns and cornices. A chef and a host serve each one.

RESTAURANT, WELLNESS & FACILITIES

Simple, contemporary Greek and Mediterranean dishes emphasise locally sourced ingredients at Amanzoe, which receives daily deliveries of local bass, bream, grouper and crustacean, as well as locally reared lamb, pork and rabbit. Meals are served in the airy Restaurant, with its deep-blue sea views, as well as at the Pool Terrace, the Japanese restaurant, the informal Beach Club or surrounded by candles in private.

The holistic healings of Hippocrates are the inspiration for Amanzoe's light-filled 2,850-square-metre Spa, combining diet, gymnastics, exercise, massage and sea bathing with modern natural products and treatments. A gym is also available, and studios host yoga and Pilates sessions.

TOUR LEADER

Catherine E. Heald
CEO and Co-Founder of Remote Lands

Catherine is an adventurer, an Asiaphile, and a serial entrepreneur. She describes her greatest fear in life as mediocrity, her second greatest as boredom and the combination as the stimulus for Remote Lands. A former software engineer and technology entrepreneur, she considers herself lucky to have found her true calling at the age of 42, and to have been able to turn her life's passion for Asian travel into her profession.

Some of her most memorable travel experiences include having a private lunch with the Queen of Bhutan in her palace; a magical New Year's Eve in Mongolia sharing a ger with a nomad family at 7°C (-35°F); hiking to far-flung hill tribe villages off the grid in eastern Myanmar; off-piste skiing in Gulmarg, Kashmir, in 1989; trekking alone in the Everest region of Nepal; taking a private helicopter up to view the peak of the third highest mountain in the world, Kanchenjunga in Sikkim; cruising in Siberia from the Arctic Circle to Vladivostok in a Russian icebreaker; chartering a private plane to visit remote corners of the Gobi Desert and eastern Mongolia; getting married in an Iban tribal longhouse in Borneo, a Hindu temple in Kerala, and a Buddhist temple in Bhutan; and travelling solo across North Korea.

Catherine (née Evans) graduated from Shady Side Academy in Pittsburgh, and then headed to New York to attend Columbia University (Barnard College) in 1980. This was the first year Columbia offered Computer Science as a major, and her instinct told her computers would become increasingly integral to business and life in general. She earned her BA in Computer Science in 1984 and then spent four years writing code for Wall Street's L.F. Rothschild, Unterberg, Towbin while attending NYU's Stern School of Business, but she left for Hong Kong before earning her MBA.

She lives with her husband, Donald Heald, a collector and purveyor of rare books and manuscripts, and their white Labrador, Bali, on Manhattan's Upper East Side and in Sherman, CT. Her proudest accomplishments include having been the youngest female CEO of a publicly traded American company at the age of 33 (as Catherine Winchester); being featured onstage with Bill Gates in two of his major keynote speeches in 1991 and 1993; and finishing the 1985 NYC Marathon in 101st place with a time of 3:17. She still runs 40 miles a week, albeit rather slowly now, and credits running and the self-discipline she learned from daily training as being the foundation for all her achievements in life.
