The Call of the Wild

A journey to Aman-i-Khás, your peaceful tented home on the fringes of Ranthambore

Experience the wild and colourful state of Rajasthan, home to Bengal tigers, stunning nature reserves, historic forts and wildly untouched corners of a bygone India, with a two-night journey at Aman-i-Khás.

Situated on the threshold of Ranthambore National Park, this intimate camp offers incomparable privacy and Mughal-era romance – each of the 10 luxurious guest tents a serene sanctuar with its own spacious bathroom, living area and hardwood deck. A stepwell pool awaits in a secluded grove, and the spa, dining and lounge tents are inviting spaces in which to relax or socialise.

Guests are assigned an experienced batman to accompany them into Ranthambore to seek out the elusive tigers and other wildlife, and to cultural sites such as the historic Ranthambore Fort. Then as day turns to night and the firepit glows beneath a starlit sky, savour an exquisite Rajasthani thali served by candlelight and relive each moment.

- Full board (breakfast, lunch, dinner and picnics)
- A selection of house beverages

2-Night Itinerary

Day 1 – Arrival

After arriving at the camp and settling in, enjoy a late lunch accompanied by birdsong. Then at 4pm, head out in an open top jeep with driver and guide to the top of Sherpur Hill for sundowner drinks and canapés. The views of Ranthambore National Park and temples dotting the wilderness are absolutely breathtaking.

An alfresco terrace dinner will be served on your return to camp.

Day 2 – Ranthambore

We begin the day with an early morning safari into Ranthambore National Park. Early mornings and evenings are the best time of day to spot wildlife – including (if you are lucky) one of the park's elusive tigers.

Your morning adventure is followed by a yoga session back at camp. Then savour some downtime or speak to your batman if you would like to explore more of the camp's offerings such as its rose or organic vegetable gardens.

Enjoy a leisurely lunch before we head out to tour the grounds of the historic Unesco-listed Ranthambore Fort in the afternoon.

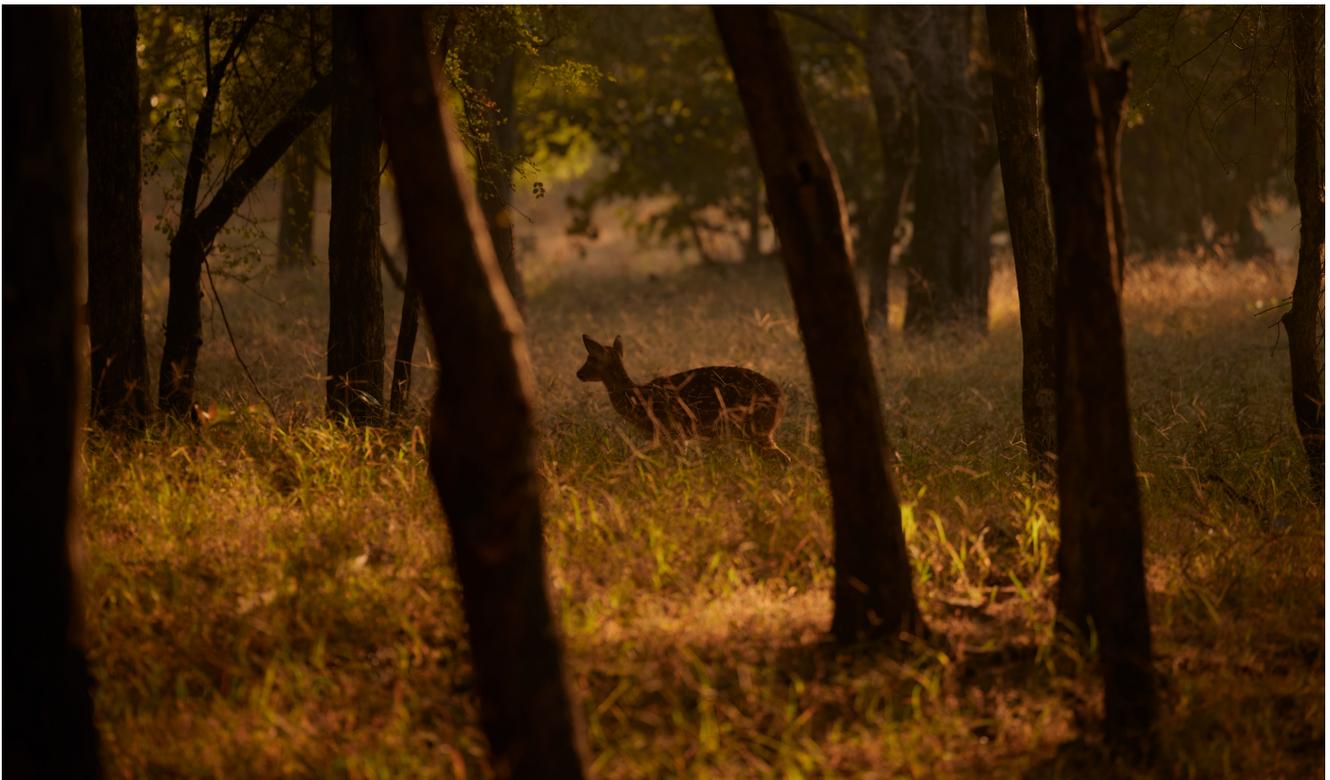

Dinner tonight will be served in the Dining Tent.

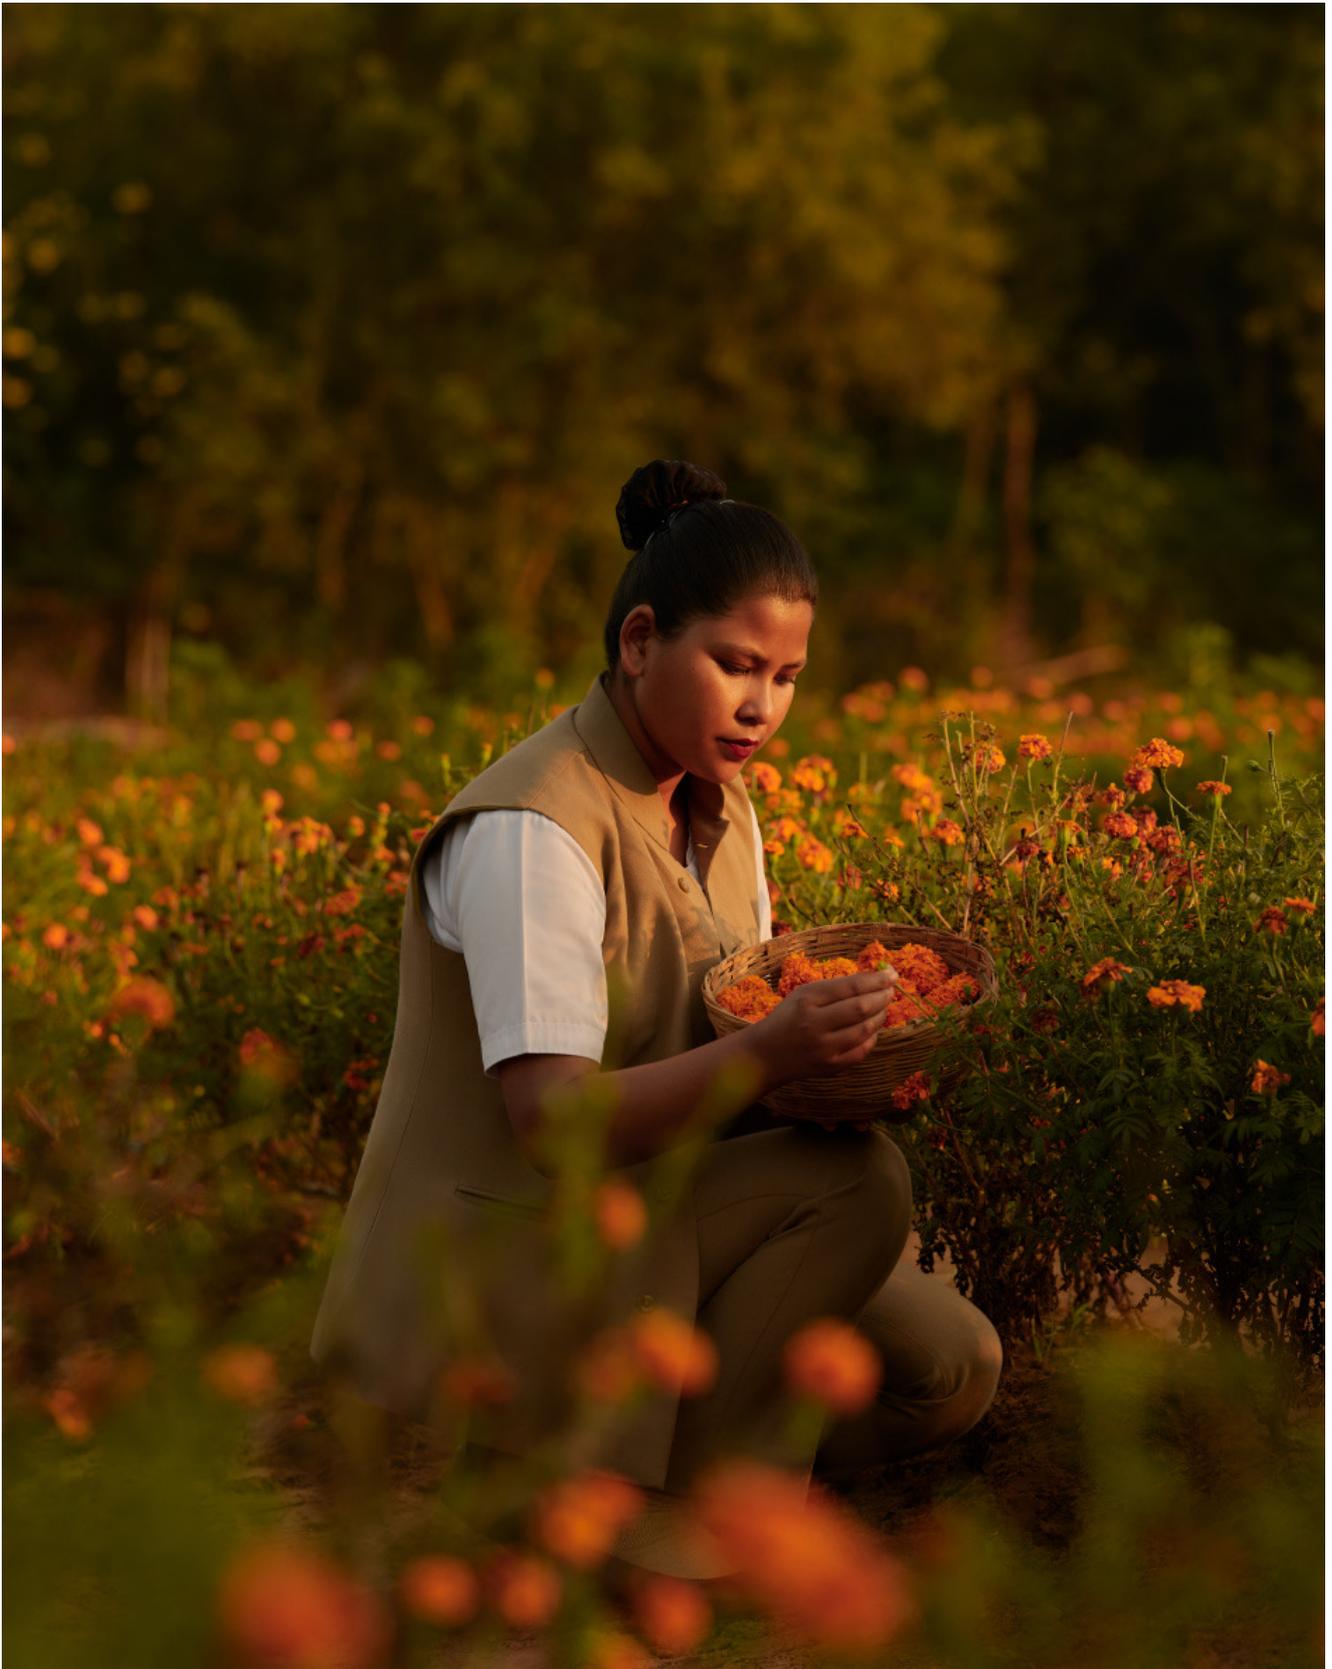

Day 3 – Departure

Today, we bid you farewell, but not before we offer another opportunity to uncover more wildlife and sights on the national park's verdant fringes.

Our day begins with an easy nature walk just beyond the boundary of the camp, revealing more of our spectacular natural setting as well as village life.

Return to the camp for a hearty breakfast or a swim in the stepwell pool before departing Aman-i-Khás.

Our multilingual Reservations team is always available to help you with your travel planning from booking a single night to multi-resort itineraries.
