Amanpulo, meaning 'peaceful island', is a secluded hideaway that offers guest a consummately safe and private escape surrounded by nature. Fringed by white-sand beaches, turquoise waters and a coral reef, Amanpulo is accessible via private plane from Manila in a 70-minute flight that touches down on the island's very own runway.

Located in the Cuyo Archipelago of northern Palawan in the Philippines, Pamalican Island is solely dedicated to Amanpulo. The island is five kilometres long and is home to diverse flora and fauna.

Scattered across the island, all 42 Casitas fulfil the promise of a solitary retreat. Treetop and Hillside Casitas enjoy discreet settings on higher ground, while Treetop Pool Casitas feature a luxurious plunge pool and Deluxe Hillside Casitas offer panoramic views of the sea. The Beach Casitas are set on the beachfront.

Located directly on the shoreline, the 18 Villas are secluded homes designed for seamless indoor-outdoor living. Offering up to four bedrooms and the services of a dedicated butler and chef, each of the Villas rests on an expansive private plot with its own swimming pool and spacious living and dining pavilions. The surrounding forest instills a sense of serene isolation, and a private sandy pathway leads directly to the beach.

Every Casita and Villa bedroom is provided with a battery-operated, open-sided vehicle for independent island exploration. Perched on the northern hillside is the Aman Spa, which offers an enriching selection of holistic wellness facilities and treatments. Palm-lined sandy paths lead to a selection of dining venues including the Beach Club, Japanese restaurant Nama, the Picnic Grove, and the Club House with its bar and terrace overlooking the main swimming pool. Seasonal menus highlight fresh ingredients from the island's flourishing organic farm.

Other facilities include the Sea Sports Hut offering a variety of water sports equipment and cruising options, the Padi Dive Centre, the Kite and Surf Centre, and the West Villa Clubhouse for bespoke events.

Located in the Cuyo Archipelago of northern Palawan in the Philippines, Pamalican Island is solely dedicated to Amanpulo. The island is five kilometres long and is home to diverse flora and fauna. The pristine beaches are nesting sites for hawksbill and green sea turtles, while the clear waters offer superb snorkelling and scuba diving on the seven square kilometres of vibrant coral reef surrounding the island.

Accommodation is offered in 42 Casitas and 18 Villas, designed by the acclaimed Filipino architect Francisco Mañosa. Every Casita and Villa bedroom is provided with a battery-operated, open-sided vehicle for independent island exploration.

Casitas are modelled after the traditional bahay kubo dwelling, with deep eaves providing shade on spacious terraces. Scattered across the island, each fulfils the promise of a solitary retreat. Treetop and Hillside Casitas enjoy discreet settings on higher ground, while Treetop Pool Casitas feature a luxurious plunge pool and Deluxe Hillside Casitas offer panoramic views of the sea. Offering up to four bedrooms and the services of a dedicated butler and chef, each of the Villas rests on an expansive private plot with its own swimming pool and spacious living and dining pavilions. Surrounded by manicured gardens, the forest all round instills a sense of serene isolation, and a private sandy pathway leads directly to the beach.

Perched on the northern hillside is the Aman Spa, which offers an enriching selection of holistic wellness treatments in six spacious treatment suites. Outdoor relaxation salas claim mesmerising sea views, while the Spa's fitness pavilion houses the yoga studio, gym, Pilates pavilion, hydrotherapy suites and a finishing salon. Fitness specialists are on hand to provide guidance, and the Jungle Run obstacle course and four tennis courts provide further scope for outdoor activity.

Palm-lined sandy pathways lead to a selection of seasonal dining venues, with fresh ingredients sourced from the island's flourishing organic farm. On a gentle rise sits the Clubhouse with its open-air terrace and bar overlooking the main swimming pool. Open all day and throughout the year, it serves Filipino favourites and Southeast Asian-inspired fare. On the western side of the island is the Beach Club – ideal for relaxed all-day Mediterranean dining and watching the sunset year-round. The Lagoon Club on the island's east coast is home to Nama, serving fine Japanese washoku cuisine including sushi and sashimi from November to May. For casual toes-in-the-sand dining, the Picnic Grove and the Windsurf Hut serve a variety of wood-fired pizzas from November to May and June to October respectively.

Other facilities include the Sea Sports Hut offering a variety of water sports equipment and cruising options, the Padi Dive Centre, the Kite and Surf Centre, and the West Villa Clubhouse for bespoke events.
