Jungle treks on Moyo provide the chance to discover waterfalls and prolific birdlife. The protected marine park offers some of the best scuba diving and snorkelling in Indonesia, with pristine reefs boasting a rich array of sea life. The camp's coastal cruisers, Amanikan and Amandira, host adventurous multi-day excursions to Rinca and Komodo Islands, and expeditions through the beautiful archipelago of Raja Ampat.

Amanikan is a 32-metre, custom-built coastal cruiser that fuses the romance of traditional spice-trading vessels with modern comfort. With three above-deck cabins, a foredeck with a bar for outdoor dining and extensive dive facilities, the boat is equipped for journeys of all kinds around the Indonesian archipelago. Excursions aboard Amanikan include the Komodo Expedition to observe the infamous Komodo Dragon, and trips to the legendary Spice Islands. These include the Banda Archipelago of seven volcanic islands, for centuries the world's only source of nutmeg and each a tropical paradise.

The newest addition to Aman's Indonesian fleet, Amandira is a custom-built, 52-metre, two-masted Phinisi sailing vessel that offers five spacious cabins with a crew of 14. Amandira can travel under sail as well as motor, with dive facilities including Nitrox to allow longer dive times for experienced divers. Two cabins are fitted with king-size beds, while the third offers a queen-size bed or twin beds. Two further cabins have double bunk beds. Amandira explores the UNESCO-protected Komodo National Park, or the magnificent coral reefs and unparalleled marine life of Raja Ampat. It can be chartered alongside Amanikan for the ultimate Indonesian odyssey.

Set on a beach overlooking the Flores Sea, Amanwana is a conservation-supporting wilderness hideaway within this National Park, with accommodation in 15 luxury tents. Other facilities include a restaurant, bar, library and spa.

The camp's accommodation lies under a canopy of tropical forest. Each 58-square-metre tent is constructed on a solid foundation from which rise wooden walls with large picture windows. The canvas ceilings are covered with a separate, waterproof exterior layer. Coral stone surrounds the hardwood deck of each tent. Inside, the air-conditioned tents feature Indonesian island artwork, hardwood flooring, a spacious sitting area with facing divans, a king-size bed, writing desk and large bathroom. Wireless Internet access is available in the tents and throughout the resort.

The Dining Room and Bar are located in an open-air pavilion with a soaring 15-metre roof made of bamboo. Indonesian hardwood flooring and solid coconut pillars support the tropical structure which looks out over Amanwana Bay. A daily menu of Asian and Western food is served at breakfast, lunch and dinner. Romantic campfire dinners on the beach and starlight dinner cruises can be arranged. Drinks can be taken at the teak-top Bar or in the comfy loungers adjacent to the dining area.

The open-air Jungle Cove Spa is set back from the beach beneath a roof of shady tamarind trees. The three treatment areas overlook Amanwana Bay.
