Amanemu ('peaceful joy') embraces the ancient Japanese tradition of onsen (mineral hot springs). Each of the 24 suites features a large deck and a private plunge-bath supplied with nutrient-rich spring water, while the extensive Aman Spa offers outdoor bathing pavilions. There are also four two-bedroom villas. Set in Ise Shima National Park on Japan's Kii Peninsula, the resort is perched on the rolling shores of Ago Bay, known as the Bay of Pearls – an expanse of blue, dotted with islets and drifting oyster rafts. Ancient pilgrimage routes wind through nearby forests, and Japan's most sacred Shinto shrines are within easy reach.

Set in Ise Shima National Park, Amanemu ('peaceful joy') is perched on the rolling shores of Ago Bay, known as the Bay of Pearls – an expanse of blue, dotted with islets and home to drifting oyster rafts. Lying south of Tokyo, two hours by train from Nagoya or 25 minutes by private helicopter, the resort borders ancient pilgrimage routes winding through nearby forests, with Japan's most sacred Shinto shrines within easy reach.

Amanemu embraces a classic Japanese aesthetic, giving the resort the feel of an exclusive sanctuary at one with nature. The ancient Japanese tradition of onsen (mineral hot springs) is ever-present, and the Aman Spa is an integral part of Amanemu. Offering an enriching guest experience centred on wellness and tradition, it features two exclusive onsen pavilions drawing nutrient-rich water from nearby hot springs, four treatment rooms and a Watsu pool. A gym, yoga pavilion and Pilates studio round out the facilities.

The benefits of onsen can also be enjoyed in each of Amanemu's 24 suites, and in its four two-bedroom villas. Each features a private plunge-bath supplied with water drawn from the same natural hot springs as the Aman Spa.

Identical in layout and design, Amanemu's 99-square-metre suites present combined bedroom and living areas and expansive decks. Suites are divided into three different categories depending on their outlooks: Mori Suites are surrounded by indigenous vegetation with tranquil green views; Sora Suites are situated closer to the coast with peaceful green views towards Ago Bay; closest to the shore, Nagi Suites offer the best views of Ago Bay. The four two-bedroom villas, two with private gardens, offer similar views with additional living areas.

Situated in a region renowned for its gourmet heritage, from seafood to Matsusaka beef, Amanemu presents two restaurants celebrating this local abundance. Other facilities include a private marina club.

Set in Ise Shima National Park on Japan's Kii Peninsula, Amanemu ('peaceful joy') is perched on the rolling shores of Ago Bay, known as the Bay of Pearls – an expanse of blue, dotted with islets and home to drifting oyster rafts. Ancient pilgrimage routes wind through forests nearby, and Japan's most sacred Shinto shrines are within easy reach.

Lying south of Tokyo on 341 acres, two hours by train from Nagoya or 25 minutes by private helicopter, Amanemu embraces a classic Japanese aesthetic to provide an exclusive sanctuary that feels at one with nature. The resort's proximity to the Unesco-protected pilgrimage routes of Kumano Kodō and the revered Shinto shrine of Ise Jingū, first erected by Emperor Temmu in the late 600s, have inspired much of its design and peaceful ambience.

At Amanemu, the ancient Japanese tradition of onsen (mineral hot springs) is ever-present, and the Aman Spa is an integral part of this concept. Offering an enriching guest experience centred on wellness and tradition, the spa – a destination in itself – offers two exclusive onsen pavilions drawing nutrient-rich water from nearby hot springs, as well as four treatment rooms, hydrotherapy suites and a Watsu pool. A gym, yoga pavilion and Pilates studio round out the wellness facilities.

The benefits of onsen can also be enjoyed in each of Amanemu's 24 suites and four two-bedroom villas. All feature a private plunge-bath supplied with water from the same natural hot springs as the Aman Spa.

Identical in layout and design, Amanemu's 99-square-metre suites present combined bedroom and living areas with woven textile shutters opening to embrace the outdoors. Expansive decks offer outdoor living areas and beautiful views. Suites are divided into three different categories depending on their outlooks: Mori Suites are surrounded by indigenous vegetation with tranquil green views; Sora Suites are situated closer to the coast with peaceful green views towards Ago Bay; closest to the shore, Nagi Suites boast premium views of Ago Bay.

The four two-bedroom villas offer similar views and layouts to the suites, with additional living space. The Mori Villa overlooks a verdant private garden with peaceful greenery all around. Living areas and bedroom pavilions open onto expansive verandas offering daybeds and an alfresco dining area. The two Sora Villas overlook their own private gardens with partial sea views. The Nagi Villa, close to the shore, commands panoramic views of Ago Bay's verdant islets and pearl rafts.

Situated in a region renowned for its gourmet heritage, from outstanding seafood to the renowned Matsusaka beef, Amanemu presents two restaurants celebrating this local abundance. The area was once known as Miketsukuni (Land of Imperial provisions) when it served as the breadbasket of the ancient Imperial Court.

Aside from exceptional facilities, including a private marina club, bar, library and boutique, Amanemu offers bespoke Aman Journeys, seeking out the cultural nuances and finest experiences of the region, and sharing these with its guests.
