Mesa to Mountains
Amangiri – Amangani
Straddling the magnificent Rocky Mountains, the western states of Utah and Wyoming offer some of the most diverse and spectacular scenery in the USA, as well as two extraordinary Aman escapes. Surrounded by breathtaking wilderness, Amangiri and Amangani are unique sanctuaries perfectly placed between the iconic natural marvels of the Grand Canyon and Yellowstone, each complementing a strikingly different setting.

In the starkly beautiful desert landscapes of Utah’s Canyon Country, Amangiri provides unparalleled access to Bryce and Zion National Parks and serene Lake Powell, while the forested mountains, snow-capped peaks and wildlife reserves of the Grand Tetons, Snake River Valley and legendary Jackson Hole constitute Amangani’s verdant playground in Wyoming.
Set on 600 acres in a protected valley, Amangiri (peaceful mountain) claims sweeping views over stratified rock and towering mesas towards Grand Staircase-Escalante National Monument. Built around a central swimming pool with elegant dining areas, indoor and outdoor lounges and just 34 spacious suites, the resort reflects the raw beauty of its setting with pared back serenity. Amangiri's extensive Aman Spa features hydrotherapy and floatation pavilions, a Watsu pool, finishing salon, yoga studio and gym.

Serving as a springboard for exploration of the area, home for centuries to the native Navajo, Amangiri offers private hiking trails, canyoneering, Via Ferrata routes, boating, hot air ballooning, horseback riding and many other adventure activities. Fireside storytelling and stargazing in the evenings enable a deeper immersion in Native American culture, while expert archaeologists and palaeontologists share more about the region's history.
Arrival
Welcome to Amangiri

Just 25 minutes by car from the airport in the nearest town of Page, Amangiri is nonetheless a world apart – its total seclusion creating an irresistible sense of timeless suspension from day to day life. After arriving in the early afternoon, explore the property with your personal Aman guide who will reveal the most photogenic spots in which to capture the interplay of light and shadow in this dramatic landscape.

As dusk falls, enjoy a drink and canapes in the Desert Lounge while watching a performance of the Native American Hoop Dance, representing the sacred circle of life and harmony between man and nature. Then dine beneath the stars on Amangiri’s exceptional seasonal cuisine.
Day 2
Discover two billions years of history

With two billion years of history laid bare in its striking erosional forms and layer of geologic colour, the Grand Canyon is today’s destination. Amangiri’s proximity to the less frequented but higher North Rim, only accessible at this time of year, offers lots of flexibility in viewing this awe-inspiring wonder of the world.

Choose to drive through the stunning high-desert landscape of the Navajo Nation to the North Rim (2.5 hours each way) or fly via helicopter or fixed wing aircraft to the South Rim, then enjoy a private tour with a highly knowledgeable Grand Canyon Association Field Institute guide.
Day 3
A Butte, a Canyon and a Lake

Wake before dawn and board a private helicopter for an ethereal ride to the top of Tower Butte, rising 1,000 feet into the sky. As golden light seeps across this primeval landscape, move as your personal yoga instructor advises in a series of sun salutations that give new meaning to each asana. Afterwards, fly back to Amangiri for breakfast.

Spend the morning exploring the red-hued, wind- and water-hewn undulations of Upper Antelope Slot Canyon, then board a powerboat and set off across the still waters of Lake Powell for a picnic lunch and an afternoon of paddle-boarding, swimming and admiring nature’s handiwork from the water.
Day 4
Amangiri to Amangani

After breakfast at Amangiri, board a private RYL Jets aircraft for the 90-minute flight to Jackson Hole, or set off on a 10-hour self-drive road-trip of a lifetime that will take you 430 miles over the Rockies to Amangani.

While the air option has the advantage of speed, allowing ample time for exploring the resort and lofty East Gross Ventre Butte on arrival, the road trip allows for a real sense of arrival after taking in the meadows of Utah, glimpses of the state’s wild horses, the Rockies’ splendid passes and famous towns. Aman can provide a picnic lunch and advice on routes and places to stop along the way.
Arrival
Welcome to Amangani

Affording magnificent views of the Grand Tetons and Snake River Valley, Amangani (peaceful home) is perched on the crest of East Gros Ventre Butte adjacent to the ski mecca of Jackson Hole. Evoking the atmosphere of the West’s pioneering days with its redwood panelling and blazing log fires, Amangani is nonetheless an all-season resort: In spring, summer and fall the surrounding wilderness areas of Grand Teton and Yellowstone beckon, with wildlife viewing, hiking, mountain biking, hot air ballooning and fly-fishing all popular attractions.
To the full beauty of Jackson Hole with an early morning float down Snake River with hot beverages and blankets. This stretch of river boasts some of the best bald eagle habitat in the continental United States. Shortly after arriving at Tipi Camp, a delicious brunch is served against the spectacular backdrop of the Teton Range.

After brunch, stroll through the cottonwood forest or try your hand at rowing a vintage McKenzie River drift boat. Spend the afternoon and early evening with Amangani’s inhouse naturalist encountering the wildlife of Grand Teton National Park in a luxury 4x4 vehicle.
Day 7
Naturalists lead tours to remarkable sites

Yellowstone is today’s destination, with breakfast and lunch enjoyed within this world-famous National Park. With your own personal guide, discover all of the Park’s most remarkable sites including Old Faithful, Grand Prismatic, Fountain Paint Pot, the upper and lower Yellowstone Falls and its very own Grand Canyon.

After a full day of absorbing the overwhelming beauty of this natural volcanic wonderland, head back to Amangani for an exceptional private dining experience.
Day 8
A farewell from Amangani

After a leisurely breakfast and departure for the airport
