To Say 'I Do'

Marriage Licence and Legal Requirements

Weddings in Greece may be civil, religious or a combination of both. Each type is legally recognised.

Civil ceremonies are performed by an officiant, while religious ceremonies are conducted by a minister or priest.

The required documents vary depending on the couple's nationality, and all paperwork must be officially translated into Greek. It is recommended that couples consult the relevant authorities in advance to ensure they meet all legal requirements.

Amanzoe provides a distinctive setting for corporate gatherings, where business meets inspiration in the tranquil surroundings of the Peloponnese.

Tailored incentive retreats at Amanzoe can include everything from welcome receptions and morning yoga to spa treatments, island cruises, cooking classes and a range of water sports at the Beach Club. The team can create a personalised itinerary that motivates, rewards and inspires.

Whether hosting a summit, strategy session or product launch, Amanzoe offers an alternative to the conventional meeting environment. The resort accommodates a variety of formats, from formal gatherings to more relaxed settings for smaller groups, all delivered with Aman's signature attention to detail.
